Young Girl Is Attacked

Police Probe Incident At S. Court St. Area

Circleville Police are continuing a search for an unidentified man who attacked a 9-year-old girl Monday night on S. Court St. between Union and Mill Sts.

The girl said a man ran off a porch of a house on the corner of Court and Union Sts. and chased her down the sidewalk. She said the attacker caught her between Union and Mill Sts. The time was about 7:10 p. m.

Police said the man apparently was lurking on the porch when the girl walked past. They said owners of the home were unaware of his presence there.

Police Sgt. Leroy Hawks and Patrolmen Donald Adams and Gerald Goldsberry said the girl was not hurt nor actually assaulted.

Describing the terrifying experience, the girl told officers the man held her around the waist, performed an act of indecent exposure and talked to her in a manner hard to understand.

The youngster said another girl, apparently in her teens, was walking south on the other side of Court St. at the time, unaware of what was going on. The 9-year-old said her attacker made several comments about the other girl, but did not attempt to pursue her.

Identification of the other girl was not determined. Police today were attempting to learn her name in an effort to gain possible helpful information.

The girl being attacked said she managed to break away from the man, then ran south and hid in some bushes. She said the attacker chased her for a short distance, but suddenly turned and ran back northward on Court St.

Officers and Adams and Goldsberry said they received reports that an unidentified man was seen on Court St. between Mound and Mill Sts. prior to the incident.

The small girl was unable to give an accurate description of the attacker. The London Bureau of Criminal Investigation is assisting in the investigation.

POLICE today advised parents not to permit young children to walk alone after dark. They said youngsters should also use caution when walking alone during daylight hours.

Officers also requested possible witnesses or anyone having information on Monday night's attack to contact police headquarters.

Two Persons Suffer Injuries In Collision on E. Main St.

Two persons were admitted to Berger Hospital at about 6 p. m. yesterday with injuries received in a two-car crash on E. Main St.

Jessie B. Cummings, 48, of 442 E. Main St., was admitted for observation. Ruth A. Wilder, 18, of 226½ Lancaster Pike, is receiving treatment for multiple lacerations and abrasions of the face and possible rib fractures.

The accident resulted when Miss Cummings attempted to make a turn on E. Main St. in front of her residence.

Miss Cummings' auto was struck broadside by a car driven by Herbert W. Gaines, 23, of 321½ Lancaster Pike, according to City Patrolman Wesley Barton.

Barton said Palm K. Gaines, 1½, also of 326½ Lancaster Pike, received minor injuries in the crash.

Gaines told Patrolman Barton he unsuccessfully attempted to stop when he noticed the Cummings' vehicle making the turn. His car skidded about 110 feet before striking the Cummings' vehicle.

Barton said impact of the Gaines auto knocked the other vehicle into an alley near the accident site. Both vehicles were demolished, investigating officers reported.

N&W-Wabash-Nickel Plate Merger Hailed at Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The presidents of a railroad and a coal mining company testified today improved railway service would result from a rail merger proposed by Norfolk & Western Railway.

Herman H. Pelver, St. Louis president of the Wabash Railroad Co., said shippers of the Wabash would receive better and faster service by a merger of the Wabash, N&W, and Nickel Plate railroads.

These benefits, he testified at an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing, would include improved freight schedules through the Niagara Frontier to and from Fort Wayne, Ind., and points west.

David L. Francis, Huntington, W. Va., president of Princess Coals, Inc., testified he believes the merger "holds promise of important benefits to our industry." S. Austin Caperton, president of Slab Fork (W. Va.) Coal Co. also testified in favor of it.

Besides the usual benefits of such a consolidation, Francis said, "the proposed unification would permit single-line service between the coal fields and a number of important coal using centers in the Middle West, such as the N&W's principal competitor, the Chesapeake & Ohio, is already in a position to render."

The New York Central Railroad served notice at Tuesday's first session of the hearing that it would ask the commission to investigate whether the Pennsylvania Railroad can control N & W should the ICC approve the proposed merger.

G. W. Glenn, Central's attorney, made the statement after N&W president Stuart T. Saunders testified that the Pennsylvania and its wholly owned subsidiary, the Pennsylvania Co., own 34.06 per cent of N&W's stock.

Ohio Highway Fund Near $36 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio will wind up with $35,988,635 of the $925 million allotted to the states in federal highway aid under the so-called "ABC" program.

The total was reached when Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges announced distribution of the final $21.25 million. Though effective Tuesday, the money is part of the over-all federal aid outlay of $3.325 billion authorized by Congress for fiscal 1963.

This final one-fourth of the ABC funds which go to federally-aided primary and secondary highway systems and their city extensions had been held up pending Post Office Department reports. The mileage of rural delivery and star postal routes is a factor in apportioning the funds.

Volcano Routs 260 from Island

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—The 260 stunned men, women and children of Tristan da Cunha spent a night of agony on a rocky outcrop in the South Atlantic, eyeing the glow of a volcano that threatens to destroy their island homes.

The refugees fled Tuesday aboard two small fishing boats from earthquakes and volcanic eruptions that began Sunday on Tristan da Cunha, a 40-square mile speck of land halfway between South Africa and South America and one of the most remote islands in the world.

The refugees fought their way through 13 miles of dangerous seas and waded ashore at Nightingale Island, a bleak, uninhabited rock a mile long and three-fourths of a mile wide, to spend the night and await a Dutch liner coming to take them to Cape Town.

The islanders will wait here while nature decides the fate of the island where they and their forebears have lived in almost complete isolation for 150 years.

Scarcely a dozen of the 260, the total population of Tristan, had ever left the British-ruled island. Their knowledge of the outside world is based on books, films, radio and hearsay. The populace refused evacuation during World War II.

Plans called for a small group of volunteers to stay behind on Nightingale Island to watch the course of the eruption—the first in modern times on the island—and return to Tristan if anything

U.S.-Soviet U.N. Accord Snagged

Timing of Statement Brings New Dispute

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U.S.-Soviet negotiations for a successor to the late U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld were reported snagged today on the timing of a statement to be given by the nominee and the nationality of a fifth secretariat deputy.

A U.S. spokesman said a two-hour bargaining session with the Soviets Tuesday failed to produce any agreement. "We made no progress. We are disappointed," he said.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin claimed the Americans "took a step backward" in discussion of when the new interim secretary-general should make a statement promising close collaboration with his deputies in his daily work.

The proposed statement is a modification of the original Soviet demand that deputies representing the world's major political groupings have a virtual veto over the secretary-general's actions. The Soviets want the statement promising collaboration delivered before the nominee's name is proposed to the Security Council, which must make the nomination to the General Assembly.

Zorin said the U.S. delegation Monday "handed us a memorandum saying the nominee should make a statement before his appointment." Tuesday he said, "they said he should make it afterward."

According to informed sources, the Americans said that due to a typist's error their statement originally contained the clause that the nominee would promise collaboration "if appointed to this post."

The informants said the Soviets had dropped their demand for appointment of only three principal advisers to the secretary-general—from the Western, Communist and neutralist blocs—and agreed with the United States on five.

Gromyko Heads Home after London Parley

British Minister Tells of Warning to Soviet Foreign Chief

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko left for Moscow today with word for the Kremlin that the British government fully supports U.S. determination to defend Western interests in Berlin.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home told the opening session of the Conservative party conference at Brighton that the Western Allies have at last convinced the Russians they will resist interference with the West's access routes to Berlin.

"If there was interference with access to West Berlin a fight would start," Home said, "and no one can say that it would not end in the ultimate disaster of the nuclear exchange I think that we succeeded in convincing Gromyko that that situation must not be allowed to arise."

Gromyko, after outwardly cordial meetings Tuesday with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Home, steadfastly maintained the Soviet determination to sign a peace treaty with East Germany. He refused to say, however, whether the Russians would carry out their previous threat to sign the treaty before the end of the year.

Gromyko described his London talks, which followed similar meetings in the United States with President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk, as "very useful."

Gromyko's three weeks of contacts with Western statesmen produced no sign of relaxation of either the Soviet or Western positions except for indications that the Soviet end-of-the-year peace treaty deadline might have been postponed. This and Soviet talk in recent days about the necessity for peace appeared to take some of the heat out of the crisis.

West To Ignore Reds' Warning

BERLIN (AP)—The United States, Britain and France are expected to ignore a sharp Communist warning against plans to send West German traffic policemen into West Berlin to help the overworked local police.

East Germany's Communist regime declared Tuesday night that any attempt to bring West German police into West Berlin by land or air would be considered aggression and be met accordingly.

The East German official news agency ADN said a note handed to diplomats of the Western powers in Prague, Czechoslovakia, asked the United States, Britain and France to stop the proposed movement.

The Allies, who do not recognize the East German regime, have never acknowledged such communications in the past.

In a routine practice alert, 1,000 American troops rushed through the streets of West Berlin this morning to test their operational readiness.

Called out at 8:05 a. m., just as the day's routine got under way, the men of the 18th Infantry 1st Battle Group grabbed their arms and deployed to various points in the neighborhood of their barracks.

Allied units are liable to be called out on such operational tests at any time of the day or night.

Some 500 U.S. soldiers docked in France today to reinforce Western Europe's defenses in the face of the Berlin crisis. The troops arrived at Cherbourg aboard the military transport Gen. Simon B. Buckner.

They were to move by train to bases in southwestern France while the Buckner continues to Bremerhaven, Germany to unload another contingent.

U.S. officials said the troops are the vanguard of more than 5,000 recently ordered to Western Europe by the Defense Department.

AFL-CIO Backs Anti-Hoffaites

Charters To Be Given Rebellious Teamsters

NEW YORK (AP)—The AFL-CIO Executive Council voted 24 to 2 today to give separate AFL-CIO charters to local unions rebelling against James R. Hoffa's Teamsters Union.

The council steered clear, however, of establishing a single rival teamsters union in the federation.

Although avoiding this step the action taken in extending a welcome to defecting units of Hoffa's union is the most drastic step taken so far in the four-year feud between the AFL-CIO and Hoffa's organization. Hoffa is president of the Teamsters Union.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, was asked whether taking in branches of Hoffa's union might lead to a head-busting era between Hoffa's union and the AFL-CIO.

"I don't really know," Meany replied. "We don't go in for head-busting. You'll have to ask Mr. Hoffa about that."

Meany said the AFL-CIO already has applications from about 100 of the nearly 900 Teamsters Union locals to join up with the AFL-CIO. He said he will promptly act on these petitions.

Hoffa replied to the challenge at Portland, Ore., saying: "We'll meet them anywhere, any time, and we'll come out on top."

Hoffa told the Western Conference of the Teamsters Union that the Teamsters are not asking to return to the AFL-CIO. If they ever did so, he added, it would be with the understanding that they could run their own affairs and organize workers without worrying about jurisdiction.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, made a counterdrive against the 1.5 million-member Teamsters look attractive by reporting here that some 100 of the nearly 900 Teamsters locals have applied to quit Hoffa's outfit and come into the main labor federation.

However, Meany's fellow AFL-CIO chiefs seem to have little appetite for an all-out fight against Hoffa's powerful Teamsters.

One top federation leader predicted that issuing a formal welcome to locals defecting from Hoffa's union is about as far as the AFL-CIO leaders are ready to go. The labor chiefs, for one thing, don't feel overly optimistic about outdoing Hoffa for members in his own trucking industry field.

Secondly, day-to-day working relationships with Teamsters have continued right along at state and local labor echelons despite the fireworks set off at the top union level after Senate disclosures involving Hoffa and his predecessor, Dave Beck, as Teamsters president.

Auto Union Faces Pair Of Troubles

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers' International Executive Board meets tonight with a double mission—to review the Ford Motor Co. negotiations and to consider what to do about the American Motors Corp. contract.

Top-level Ford and UAW negotiators were to resume sessions today on the last two national economic issues standing in the way of ending the nine-day-old strike of 120,000 hourly paid Ford workers.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, said there is a possibility of an all-night session tonight.

The union is driving to get a new contract in time to present it to a scheduled meeting of its Ford Council Thursday afternoon.

Another problem facing the board is that of the AMC contract rejection by Local 72 at Kenosha, Wis. The 12,000-member local, AMC's biggest, voted 1,507-1444 against ratifying the profit-sharing contract. A majority of the locals have approved it.

George Romney AMC president said the contract is "better than any contract in the industry. I am confident that when the people in Kenosha are completely informed, they will approve."

Of the 85 bargaining units at Ford, 42 have settled and still have unresolved problems. Twelve had no local demands.

Phone in Pub Is Dead Drunk

PILSWORTH, England (AP)—The telephone in the Three Arrows pub went out like a light every night and came on again in the morning. Repairmen could find nothing wrong.

LONDON (AP)—A man identified only as "X" was declared the winner today of 176,259 pounds—$493,515.20—in a British soccer football pool.

It was the largest payout ever made in a pool charging only a farthing—a coin no longer legal tender—per chance. A farthing is 1/4th of a U.S. cent.

Another pool, charging 2 pence —2 1/3 cents—a chance, paid a second anonymous winner 143,730 pounds, $402,444.

Both men exercised their right—guaranteed by the pools—to remain anonymous.

Would-Be Robber Killed By Cleveland Bus Driver

CLEVELAND (AP) — A Cleveland Transit System bus driver turned on a pair of would-be robbers on his bus early today and fatally stabbed one of the youths, police said.

Dead on arrival at St. Vincent Charity Hospital was Ronald Barnett, 17, stabbed several times with a long hunting knife. The other youth escaped.

The bus driver, Richard Henkel, told detectives the pair had threatened him with a knife and a screw driver.

Gromyko Heads Home after London Parley

British Minister Tells of Warning to Soviet Foreign Chief

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko left for Moscow today with word for the Kremlin that the British government fully supports U.S. determination to defend Western interests in Berlin.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home told the opening session of the Conservative party conference at Brighton that the Western Allies have at last convinced the Russians they will resist interference with the West's access routes to Berlin.

"If there was interference with access to West Berlin a fight would start," Home said, "and no one can say that it would not end in the ultimate disaster of the nuclear exchange. I think that we succeeded in convincing Gromyko that that situation must not be allowed to arise."

Gromyko, after outwardly cordial meetings Tuesday with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Home, steadfastly maintained the Soviet determination to sign a peace treaty with East Germany.

He refused to say, however, whether the Russians would carry out their previous threat to sign the treaty before the end of the year.

Gromyko described his London talks, which followed similar meetings in the United States with President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk, as "very useful."

Gromyko's three weeks of contacts with Western statesmen produced no sign of relaxation of either the Soviet or Western positions except for indications that the Soviet end-of-the-year peace treaty deadline might have been postponed. This and Soviet talk in recent days about the necessity for peace appeared to take some of the heat out of the crisis.

Timing of Statement Brings New Dispute

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.S.-Soviet negotiations on a successor to the late U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld were reported snagged today on the timing of a statement to be given by the nominee and the nationality of a fifth secretariat deputy.

A U.S. spokesman said a two-hour bargaining session with the Soviets Tuesday failed to produce any agreement. "We made no progress. We are disappointed," he said.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin claimed the Americans "took a step backward" in discussion of when the new interim secretary-general should make a statement promising close collaboration with his deputies in his daily work.

The proposed statement is a modification of the original Soviet demand that deputies representing the world's major political groupings have a virtual veto over the secretary-general's actions. The Soviets want the statement promising collaboration delivered before the nominee's name is proposed to the Security Council, which must make the nomination to the General Assembly.

Zorin said the U.S. delegation Monday "handed us a memorandum saying the nominee should make a statement before his appointment." Tuesday he said, "they said he should make it afterward."

According to informed sources, the Americans said that due to a typist's error their statement originally contained the clause that the nominee would promise collaboration "if appointed to this post."

The informants said the Soviets had dropped their demand for appointment of only three principal advisers to the secretary-general—from the Western, Communist and neutralist blocs—and agreed with the United States on five.

West To Ignore Reds' Warning

BERLIN (AP)—The United States, Britain and France are expected to ignore a sharp Communist warning against plans to send West German traffic policemen into West Berlin to help the over-worked local police.

East Germany's Communist regime declared Tuesday night that any attempt to bring West German police into West Berlin by land or air would be considered aggression and be met accordingly.

The East German official news agency ADN said a note handed to diplomats of the Western powers in Prague, Czechoslovakia, asked the United States, Britain and France to stop the proposed movement.

The Allies, who do not recognize the East German regime, have never acknowledged such communications in the past.

In a routine practice alert, 1,000 American troops rushed through the streets of West Berlin this morning to test their operational readiness.

Called out at 8:05 a.m., just as the day's routine got under way, the men of the 18th Infantry 1st Battle Group grabbed their arms and deployed to various points in the neighborhood of their barracks.

Allied units are liable to be called out on such operational tests at any time of the day or night.

Some 500 U.S. soldiers docked in France today to reinforce Western Europe's defenses in the face of the Berlin crisis. The troops arrived at Cherbourg aboard the military transport Gen. Simon B. Buckner.

They were to move by train to bases in southwestern France while the Buckner continues to Bremerhaven, Germany to unload another contingent.

U.S. officials said the troops are the vanguard of more than 3,000 recently ordered to Western Europe by the Defense Department.

AFL-CIO Backs Anti-Hoffaites

CHARTERS TO BE GIVEN REBELLIOUS TEAMSTERS

NEW YORK (AP)—The AFL-CIO Executive Council voted 24 to 2 today to give separate AFL-CIO charters to local unions rebelling against James R. Hoffa's Teamsters Union.

The council steered clear, however, of establishing a single rival teamsters union in the federation.

Although avoiding this step the action taken in extending a welcome to defecting units of Hoffa's union is the most drastic step taken so far in the four-year feud between the AFL-CIO and Hoffa's organization. Hoffa is president of the Teamsters Union.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, was asked whether taking in branches of Hoffa's union might lead to a head-busting era between Hoffa's union and the AFL-CIO.

"I don't really know," Meany replied. "We don't go in for head-busting. You'll have to ask Mr. Hoffa about that."

Meany said the AFL-CIO already has applications from about 100 of the nearly 900 Teamsters Union locals to join up with the AFL-CIO. He said he will promptly act on these petitions.

Hoffa replied to the challenge at Portland, Ore., saying: "We'll meet them anywhere, any time, and we'll come out on top."

Hoffa told the Western Conference of the Teamsters Union that the Teamsters are not asking to return to the AFL-CIO. If they ever did so, he added, it would be with the understanding that they could run their own affairs and organize workers without worrying about jurisdiction.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, made a counterdrive against the 1.5 million-member Teamsters, look attractive by reporting here that some 100 of the nearly 900 Teamsters locals have applied to quit Hoffa's outfit and come into the main labor federation.

However, Meany's fellow AFL-CIO chiefs seem to have little appetite for an all-out fight against Hoffa's powerful Teamsters.

One top federation leader predicted that issuing a formal welcome to locals defecting from Hoffa's union is about as far as the AFL-CIO leaders are ready to go.

The labor chiefs, for one thing, don't feel overly optimistic about outdoing Hoffa for members in his own trucking industry field.

Secondly, day-to-day working relationships with Teamsters have continued right along at state and local labor echelons despite the fireworks set off at the top union level after Senate disclosures involving Hoffa and his predecessor, Dave Beck, as Teamsters president.

American Mothers Blamed for Lack Of Physical Fitness in Youths Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Bonnie Prudden has a bone to pick with mothers.

She thinks maybe they're not helping their families become as physically fit as they are themselves. "Mothers can go all the way down and touch their toes, boys of 14 can't."

This is not to say all American housewives could try out tomorrow for the Olympics. It's just that they can be put into condition faster than the children, they tell: "No, you can't visit Johnny. He lives four blocks away and I don't have the car."

"Adults 40, 50, 60 years old—they had paper rollers as kids, played outdoors until suppertime

—I can get back in shape in from four to six weeks," says the little, roundette expert on physical fitness. "With teen-agers it takes two years. Why, high school girls in Rye, N.Y., had a worse failure rate in fitness tests than the little old ladies in a retirement home."

"Do you realize that in 1955 our 6-year-olds had a 54 per cent failure, compared with 4 per cent in Europe? And today it's 82 per cent failure?"

It was in 1955 Bonnie set up pilot studies on fitness. Her report a real sucker, was taken to President Eisenhower and led to formation of the President's Council for Physical Fitness.

Since our youth's state of vigor seems to be steadily deteriorating, Bonnie thinks President Kennedy should step in and spell out a program in precise detail: each 11-year-old boy must chin himself three times a day, and so forth. "We can't leave interpretation of how to achieve fitness to the people who've brought us where we are," she insists.

Where are we? Ninety-one per cent of our elementary schools, says Bonnie, don't have gym at all. Of the 9 per cent that do, physical exercise are done for 6½ minutes twice a week.

"If youngsters are given an exciting program they'd like gym," she promises. "But it should be fitted to the American temperament that likes excitement, rhythm, change. Exercise should be changed every 15 seconds. Swedish gymnastics or German-type exercises that you do over and over again won't work with us."

How did her interest in fitness start?

"I was a discontented housewife who noticed how soft my two little girls were getting. I started exercise classes for them, and lost 15 pounds myself in the first two weeks."

The classes soon embraced the neighborhood and blossomed into a fulltime career with a fitness institute, lectures and books—the latest "How to Keep Slender and Fit After Thirty" is just published.

Auto Union Faces Pair Of Troubles

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers' International Executive Board meets tonight with a double mission—to review the Ford Motor Co. negotiations and to consider what to do about the American Motors Corp. contract.

Top-level Ford and UAW negotiators were to resume sessions today on the last two national non-economic issues standing in the way of ending the nine-day-old strike of 120,000 hourly paid Ford workers.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, said there is a possibility of an all-night session tonight.

The union is driving to get a new contract in time to present it to a scheduled meeting of its Ford Council Thursday afternoon.

Another problem facing the board is that of the AMC contract rejection by Local 72 at Kenosha, Wis. The 12,000-member local, AMC's biggest, voted 1,507-1444 against ratifying the profit-sharing contract. A majority of the locals have approved it.

George Romney AMC president said the contract is "better than any contract in the industry. I am confident that when the people in Kenosha are completely informed, they will approve."

Of the 85 bargaining units at Ford, 42 have settled and still have unresolved problems. Twelve had no local demands.

Lively Senate Race Hinted in Massachusetts

Henry Cabot Lodge May Be Drafted for Seat Lost to Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's home state of Massachusetts will have one of 1962's liveliest Senate races if Henry Cabot Lodge—who says he can't be drafted—ends up a candidate for the Republican nomination.

An effort to bring Lodge, the 1960 GOP vice presidential nominee, into the race was launched Tuesday by a group headed by Paul Vaites Jr., a Boston attorney.

Lodge promptly told newsmen "I cannot be drafted. No attempt to draft me has my approval."

The former U.S. ambassador to the United Nations now is associated with Time, Life and Fortune magazines as an adviser on international affairs. He lost his Senate seat to Kennedy in 1952.

Vaites said later he wasn't surprised at Lodge's reaction. He said the Draft Lodge Committee will meet soon to see what to do next.

Should Lodge end up making the Senate race, he would be joining Richard M. Nixon, former vice president and the 1960 GOP presidential nominee, in trying for a comeback at the polls. Nixon is seeking the California governorship.

The Draft Lodge group would have no assurance of course, that he could have the Republican nomination. That might depend on whether GOP Gov. John A. Volpe wants another term in the statehouse or would like to try for the Senate.

Volpe demonstrated his pulling power in winning in 1960 by a margin of 138,000 votes while Kennedy was carrying the state by more than a half million.

National headquarters Republicans think they would have a strong candidate in either Volpe or Lodge. They look with some glee on what they believe is a developing cleavage among Massachusetts Democrats.

This involves the scarcely disguised differences between factions headed by Kennedy and Rep. John W. McCormack, designated as acting speaker of the House in the illness of Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex.

McCormack has made it clear he is strongly interested in political advancement for his nephew, Massachusetts Atty. Gen. Edward J. McCormack. The acting speaker would like to get the party senatorial nomination for his favorite relative.

But Edward M. (Teddy) Kennedy, the President's youngest brother, has been acting like a potential candidate for the same nomination.

To complicate matters, Sen. Benjamin A. Smith II, D-Mass., appointed to Kennedy's seat when the latter became President, has shown signs of liking his job. The general understanding that Smith would serve only until next election might turn out to be a misunderstanding if he chooses to bid for the nomination. Whoever is elected next year will serve two unexpired years of Kennedy's term.

This three-pronged situation poses a problem for the President. He can ill-afford a Democratic squabble in his home state.

Vehicles operated by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department are exempt from a ruling approved Monday by the Board of County Commissioners standardizing markings on county-operated cars and trucks.

All vehicles except the sheriff's are to bear two-inch minimum insignias designating them as the county's. Markings for sheriff's vehicles are established by a state sheriff's commission.

Low-Flying Puts Pilot On Shelf

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board has ordered the commercial pilot rating of Air Force Lt. Raymond Jolly suspended next Monday for 60 days for low flying over the Columbus, Ohio area April 30, 1960.

The CAB thus reduced a proposed penalty of certificate revocation.

Jolly, of Columbus, had appealed from a ruling by CAB Examiner H. G. Moorhead. Moorhead last April approved a Federal Aviation Agency order revoking Jolly's certificate — and denying him any new one for at least a year — for performing acrobatic maneuvers at less than 1,500 feet over the Berwick suburb of Columbus.

Jolly had protested that if acrobatic maneuvers were performed by anyone they were undertaken by Capt. William Penland of the 512th Bombardment Squadron, Lockbourne Air Force Base, Ohio, who was piloting another plane in maneuvers with him.

The examiner had ruled that only Jolly took part in the acrobatics. He suspended Penland's certificate for 60 days.

The CAB, in reducing Jolly's penalty, said it could not conclude that Jolly engaged in acrobatic maneuvers, but agreed he should be penalized for low flying.

The men flew T34 jet trainers owned by the S.A.C. Flying Club at Price Field in Greater Columbus.

flashed smiles, V's for victory and a new troika sign to newsmen after his hour and 40 minute session with Macmillan. Several times he told newsmen that everything must be done to avert a military collision over Berlin. A peaceful settlement is possible, he said, "but not everything is dependent on the Soviet Union."

Both Macmillan and Gromyko indicated the continuing diplomatic probing is proving useful. Informants said Gromyko found complete unity in the U. S. and British stands on Berlin and that Macmillan sought to dispel any possible Soviet suspicion that Britain might be taking a softer stand than Washington.

They said the Soviet foreign minister will be able to report to Premier Khrushchev that both Kennedy and Macmillan are ready for a meeting—but not on the basis now proposed by Moscow. Macmillan echoed Kennedy, the informants said, in rejecting as a starting point for talks the Soviet demands for an immediate German peace settlement, an end to the occupation status of West Berlin and the transfer of authority over West Berlin's access routes to East Germany's Communist regime.

Tax Stamp Sales Show New Rise

For the second consecutive week receipts of gross sales tax stamp revenue reported by the Pickaway County Treasurer's office showed a substantial increase.

For the week ending Oct. 7, gross sales to county merchants totaled $5,256.76. This was an increase of almost $1,000 over the Sept. 30 total of $4,285.

Most business operators make their heaviest purchases of the stamps at the first of the month, so the rise was not unusually large. A steady upswing in the area's business tempo as reflected by stamp purchases has been noted for several weeks, however.

Stock Mart Is Cautious, Irregular

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market showed cautious irregularity early this afternoon as uncertainties continued in the labor picture and on the international front. Trading was moderate.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up a minimum .10 at 258.59 with industries unchanged, rails up .20 and utilities unchanged.

The Ford strike dragged into its second week and Ford stock was weak adversely affecting others in its group.

The buildup in Communist military forces in "maneuvers" of the Warsaw Pact powers near West Germany's border was a disquieting influence as diplomacy remained stalled on the Berlin crisis.

Changes of most key stocks were small and there was some strong action by selected issues not represented in market averages. On balance, blue chips remained fairly steady although there was a casual here and there.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .53 at 706.14. Prices on the American Stock Exchange were generally higher in moderate trading.

Lively Senate Race Hinted in Massachusetts

Henry Cabot Lodge May Be Drafted for Seat Lost to Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's home state of Massachusetts will have one of 1962's liveliest Senate races if Henry Cabot Lodge—whose says he can't be drafted—ends up a candidate for the Republican nomination.

An effort to bring Lodge, the 1960 GOP vice presidential nominee, into the race was launched Tuesday by a group headed by Paul Vaites Jr., a Boston attorney.

Lodge promptly told newsmen "I cannot be drafted. No attempt to draft me has my approval."

The former U.S. ambassador to the United Nations now is associated with Time, Life and Fortune magazines as an adviser on international affairs. He lost his Senate seat to Kennedy in 1952.

Vaites said later he wasn't surprised at Lodge's reaction. He said the Draft Lodge Committee will meet soon to see what to do next.

Should Lodge end up making the Senate race, he would be joining Richard M. Nixon, former vice president and the 1960 GOP presidential nominee, in trying for a comeback at the polls. Nixon is seeking the California governorship.

The Draft Lodge group would have no assurance of course, that he could have the Republican nomination. That might depend on whether GOP Gov. John A. Volpe wants another term in the statehouse or would like to try for the Senate.

Volpe demonstrated his pulling power in winning in 1960 by a margin of 138,000 votes while Kennedy was carrying the state by more than a half million.

National headquarters Republicans think they would have a strong candidate in either Volpe or Lodge. They look with some glee on what they believe is a developing cleavage among Massachusetts Democrats.

This involves the scarcely disguised differences between factions headed by Kennedy and Rep. John W. McCormack, designated as acting speaker of the House in the illness of Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex. McCormack has made it clear he is strongly interested in political advancement for his nephew, Massachusetts Atty. Gen. Edward J. McCormack. The acting speaker would like to get the party senatorial nomination for his favorite relative.

But Edward M. (Teddy) Kennedy, the President's youngest brother, has been acting like a potential candidate for the same nomination.

To complicate matters, Sen. Benjamin A. Smith II, D-Mass., appointed to Kennedy's seat when the latter became President, has shown signs of liking his job. The general understanding that Smith would serve only until next election might turn out to be a misunderstanding if he chooses to bid for the nomination. Whoever is elected next year will serve two unexpired years of Kennedy's term.

This three-pronged situation poses a problem for the President. He can ill-afford a Democratic squabble in his home state.

Low-Flying Puts Pilot On Shelf

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board has ordered the commercial pilot rating of Air Force Lt. Raymond Jolly suspended next Monday for 60 days for low flying over the Columbus, Ohio area April 30, 1960.

The CAB thus reduced a proposed penalty of certificate revocation.

Jolly, of Columbus, had appealed from a ruling by CAB Examiner H. G. Moorhead. Moorhead last April approved a Federal Aviation Agency order revoking Jolly's certificate — and denying him any new one for at least a year — for performing acrobatic maneuvers at less than 1,500 feet over the Berwick suburb of Columbus.

Jolly had protested that if acrobatic maneuvers were performed by anyone they were undertaken by Capt. William Penland of the 512th Bombardment Squadron, Lockbourne Air Force Base, Ohio, who was piloting another plane in maneuvers with him.

The examiner had ruled that only Jolly took part in the acrobatics. He suspended Penland's certificate for 60 days.

The CAB, in reducing Jolly's penalty, said it could not conclude that Jolly engaged in acrobatic maneuvers, but agreed he should be penalized for low flying.

The men flew T34 jet trainers owned by the S.A.C. Flying Club at Price Field in Greater Columbus.

Gromyko Heads

Fashed smiles, V's for victory and a new troika sign to newsmen after his hour and 40 minute session with Macmillan. Several times he told newsmen that everything must be done to avert a military collision over Berlin. A peaceful settlement is possible he said, "but not everything is dependent on the Soviet Union." Both Macmillan and Gromyko indicated the continuing diplomatic probing is proving useful.

Informants said Gromyko found complete unity in the U. S. and British stands on Berlin and that Macmillan sought to dispel any possible Soviet suspicion that Britain might be taking a softer stand than Washington.

They said the Soviet foreign minister will be able to report to Premier Khrushchev that both Kennedy and Macmillan are ready for a meeting—but not on the basis now proposed by Moscow.

Macmillan echoed Kennedy, the informants said, in rejecting as a starting point for talks the Soviet demands for an immediate German peace settlement, an end to the occupation status of West Berlin and the transfer of authority over West Berlin's access routes to East Germany's Communist regime.

Tax Stamp Sales

Show New Rise

For the second consecutive week receipts of gross sales tax stamp revenue reported by the Pickaway County Treasurer's office showed a substantial increase.

For the week ending Oct. 7, gross sales to county merchants totaled $5,256.76. This was an increase of almost $1,000 over the Sept. 30 total of $4,285.

Most business operators make their heaviest purchases of the stamps at the first of the month, so the rise was not unusually large. A steady upswing in the area's business tempo as reflected by stamp purchases has been noted for several weeks, however.

Administration Sees Success In Grain Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration claimed success today for its program designed to reduce costly surpluses of livestock feed grains.

This claim was made by Under Secretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy on the basis of the Agriculture Department crop report issued late Tuesday and Murphy's estimate of what production of these grains would have been without the plan.

But the under secretary's claims are likely to be challenged by critics of the program.

Under the program, farmers will be paid about $768 million for reducing acreages of corn and sorghum grain. They also were offered higher price supports that last year.

The crop report estimated combined production of corn and sorghum grain at 4,008,000,000 bushels, compared with 4,499,000,000 last year. Farmers reduced acreages of these crops about 20 per cent but production apparently will be down only about 11 per cent.

Murphy said in a statement that without the program the combined production of these two grains would be about 4.9 billion bushels. Thus, he said the program brought about a downward adjustment of 892 million bushels from the amount he said would have been produced without the program.

Murphy said the program will save taxpayers more than $500 million dollars above its cost.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has taken steps toward possible control of turkey production to improve grower prices and returns.

Charles S. Murphy has appointed an industry committee to advise his department on plans to manage production.

New farm legislation enacted this year authorizes the establishment of a federal marketing order to regulate hatching and marketing of turkeys.

This year's record crop—26 per cent above last year—has brought a sharp decline in producer prices.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Recommendations on how the federal system for regulating the marketing of fluid milk in metropolitan areas might be improved will go to Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman in December.

So reports D. Edwin G. Nourse, chairman of an 18-member study committee appointed last March by the secretary to analyze the present program. The committee ended a two-day meeting here Tuesday.

CHS Hi-Y Club Inducts Dozen New Members

A dozen new members were initiated into the Circleville High School Hi-Y Club in solemn annual induction services in the Lutheran Church Parish House.

Officially joining the organization during candlelight ceremonies were Howard Fletcher, Benny Grable, Larry Lane, Richard MacKenzie, Mike O'Donnell, Doyle Painter, Donald Ramey, Kenneth Robins, Paul Smith, David Thomas, John Wardell and Carl Zehner.

Guest speaker for the program was Roger Mann, assistant to the executive secretary of the Town and Country branch of the district YMCA unit. Mann elaborated on opportunities for service available to young men through the Hi-Y club.

Presenting and explaining in detail the Hi-Y platform were Jim Wellington, president; Doug Conley, chaplain; David Troutman, secretary; Jack Mader, treasurer; and Brian Bell, vice president of the local club.

After the induction ritual light refreshments were served to members and guests. Fred Geoglein, club advisor, congratulated the new Hi-Y affiliates.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE IN COMMON MARKET?—Here is the European Common Market, with Britain engaging in talks in Paris on whether or not to join. An anti-Common Market storm rages back home. The talks will last for months, it is believed, before any decision is made. (Central Press)

France, West Germany Seen OKing More Talks on Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP)—France and West Germany are expected to give reluctant approval to further Washington-Moscow talks aimed at a Berlin settlement. The exchanges would be at the ambassadorial level.

However, the French and West Germans reportedly would prefer to hold off on further East-West Western powers agree to a united exploitative contacts until the approach to the Berlin problem.

This was made clear by diplomatic sources after the Western ambassadorial steering group met for 3½ hours with Foy D. Kohle, assistant secretary of state.

The British, French and West German envoys and their aides have been meeting almost daily with Kohle, head of the State Department's task force for Germany.

Diplomatic sources, in disclosing the French and West German views conceded that the gap between the thinking in Washington, London, Paris and Bonn was not bridged when the Western foreign ministers met here in September.

To underline the French position, Ambassador Herve Alphand, who attended Monday night's meeting, also saw Secretary of State Dean Rusk alone. Alphand and the other envoys were not available for comment after the conference.

The European Allies were briefed on the recent conferences between Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and the two-hour meeting last Friday between President Kennedy and Gromyko.

U.S. officials were reported to have told the diplomats they do not share the German and French assessments of the Gromyko talks. Specifically, some Washington authorities disagree with Wilhelm Grewe, the German ambassador, who said on Sunday that the Kennedy-Gromyko meeting seemed to him "a step backward."

The talks with Gromyko, these officials said, represented neither progress nor regression. But they said a number of points raised by Kennedy and Rusk were left without clarification.

Therefore Washington believes that such an exchange should continue. Officials suggested the best approach would be to have Llewellyn Thompson, the U.S. ambassador to Moscow, keep in contact with Gromyko.

Administration Sees Success In Grain Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration claimed success today for its program designed to reduce costly surpluses of livestock feed grains.

This claim was made by Under Secretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy on the basis of the Agriculture Department crop report issued late Tuesday and Murphy's estimate of what production of these grains would have been without the plan.

But the under secretary's claims are likely to be challenged by critics of the program.

Under the program, farmers will be paid about $768 million for reducing acreages of corn and sorghum grain. They also were offered higher price supports that last year.

The crop report estimated combined production of corn and sorghum grain at 4,008,000,000 bushels, compared with 4,499,000,000 last year. Farmers reduced acreages of these crops about 20 per cent but production apparently will be down only about 11 per cent.

Murphy said in a statement that without the program the combined production of these two grains would be about 4.9 billion bushels. Thus, he said the program brought about a downward adjustment of 892 million bushels from the amount he said would have been produced without the program.

Murphy said the program will save taxpayers more than $500 million dollars above its cost.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has taken steps toward possible control of turkey production to improve grower prices and returns.

Charles S. Murphy has appointed an industry committee to advise his department on plans to manage production.

New farm legislation enacted this year authorizes the establishment of a federal marketing order to regulate hatching and marketing of turkeys.

This year's record crop—26 per cent above last year—has brought a sharp decline in producer prices.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Recommendations on how the federal system for regulating the marketing of fluid milk in metropolitan areas might be improved will go to Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman in December.

So reports D. Edwin G. Nourse, chairman of an 18-member study committee appointed last March by the secretary to analyze the present program. The committee ended a two-day meeting here Tuesday.

CHS Hi-Y Club Inducts Dozen New Members

A dozen new members were initiated into the Circleville High School Hi-Y Club in solemn annual induction services in the Lutheran Church Parish House.

Officially joining the organization during candlelight ceremonies were Howard Fletcher, Benny Grable, Larry Lane, Richard MacKenzie, Mike O'Donnell, Doyle Painter, Donald Ramey, Kenneth Robins, Paul Smith, David Thomas, John Wardell and Carl Zehner.

Guest speaker for the program was Roger Mann, assistant to the executive secretary of the Town and Country branch of the district YMCA unit. Mann elaborated on opportunities for service available to young men through the Hi-Y club.

Presenting and explaining in detail the Hi-Y platform were Jim Wellington, president; Doug Conley, chaplain; David Troutman, secretary; Jack Mader, treasurer; and Brian Bell, vice president of the local club.

After the induction ritual light refreshments were served to members and guests. Fred Geoglein, club advisor, congratulated the new Hi-Y affiliates.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE IN COMMON MARKET?—Here is the European Common Market, with Britain engaging in talks in Paris on whether or not to join. An anti-Common Market storm rages back home. The talks will last for months, it is believed, before any decision is made. (Central Press)

France, West Germany Seen OKing More Talks on Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP)—France and West Germany are expected to give reluctant approval to further Washington-Moscow talks aimed at a Berlin settlement. The exchanges would be at the ambassadorial level.

However, the French and West Germans reportedly would prefer to hold off on further East-West Western powers agree to a united approach to the Berlin problem.

This was made clear by diplomatic sources after the Western ambassadorial steering group met for 3½ hours with Foy D. Kohle, assistant secretary of state.

The British, French and West German envoys and their aides have been meeting almost daily with Kohler, head of the State Department's task force for Germany.

Diplomatic sources, in disclosing the French and West German views, conceded that the gap between the thinking in Washington, London, Paris and Bonn was not bridged when the Western foreign ministers met here in September.

To underline the French position, Ambassador Herve Alphand, who attended Monday night's meeting, also saw Secretary of State Dean Rusk alone. Alphand and the other envoys were not available for comment after the conference.

The European Allies were briefed on the recent conferences between Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and the two-hour meeting last Friday between President Kennedy and Gromyko.

U.S. officials were reported to have told the diplomats they do not share the German and French assessments of the Gromyko talks. Specifically, some Washington authorities disagree with Wilhelm Grewe, the German ambassador, who said on Sunday that the Kennedy-Gromyko meeting seemed to him "a step backward."

The talks with Gromyko, these officials said, represented neither progress nor regression. But they said a number of points raised by Kennedy and Rusk were left without clarification.

Old Age Secrets

Modern man, aided and abetted by the wonders of medical science, sees no need to drop out of the limelight simply because he is 70 years old. He wants to live longer, and often does.

And when he reaches 90 or, in a few cases, 100, he is seldom hesitant about divulging the reason for his longevity, often attributing it to some habit or practice of his own discovery. Some claim their long life has been possible because they abstained from liquor and tobacco. Others boast they have used both consistently. And there are those who give credit to plenty of sleep or hard work or lack of worry.

Actually, long life is a family trait — a characteristic which has been shown in previous generations inherited by the particular individual who lives beyond his allotted time. But how a person lives can shorten or lengthen his life by many years.

Do They Exist?

Desert travel is not much indulged in these days, but the legends of famous mirages live on. Any schoolboy knows a mirage is a non-existent apparition caused by a combination of extreme heat, thirst and imagination. That is, that's what schoolboys have known up to now.

Science, in the name of technical progress, has captured a mirage on film. Yes, the impersonal negative, which is supposed to capture what is there and not what is presumed to be there, has recorded a mirage. Which leads irrefutably to the conclusion that mirages do exist.

Rainbow in Their Living Room

NEW YORK (AP)—It was raining outside their small apartment, and she felt nervous.

"I'm not kidding about the divorce—this time I really am going through with it," said Ella. "The way you acted at the party last night! What were you trying to celebrate so hard?"

"Never mind," said Tom. "If you want the divorce, you can have it. I'll give you half my salary. What'll we do about the bank account?"

"There's only $12 left in it," replied Ella.

"Okay," said Tom. "It's yours. Now what'll we do about the things in the apartment?"

Ella looked at him uncertainly for a moment, then said decisively:

"Let's divide them—since you're being so nice about the money. You choose first."

"Okay, I'll take your twin bed; it's more comfortable."

"Big man!" said Ella. "I'll take the other bed. Shall we divide the dressers—you take yours, I'll take mine? Right? Now it's your choice."

Item by item they went through the house, dividing things. When the furniture had all been divided, they started on the wedding presents, the dishes, the silverware, the pots and pans.

Then they got down to the things in the kitchen cabinet. He got the salt shaker and the cinnamon, she got the pepper shaker and the nutmeg.

Finally there was nothing left in the cabinet but a box of rice.

"You take it," said Ella. "You may need it to throw at your next wedding."

"No, I want to be completely fair about this," said Tom. Grain by grain, he methodically divided the rice into "his" and "her" piles, saying as he did so, "She loves me—she loves me not."

"Well, that was certainly a silly performance," said Ella, when he finished. "I guess that winds it up."

To Build or Not To Build

To build or not to build is the great question of the day.

Up to a few months ago, the compulsion was to build a swimming pool. Who could possibly have any status at all unless a tub of green water lay on his lawn for all to see? Sometimes, they even put on bathing suits and lay in the sun or if the weather was warm enough, they hopped in and swam about for a few minutes. It was a beautiful sight to behold — but most of the time the pool just lay there serving neither man nor fish, but giving evidence of status.

But now it's a bomb shelter and they dig it deep and provide 30 days of food and water and the fancier ones have a battery room from which can come light and heat with an oil supply to last exactly 30 days. This business has not yet reached boom proportions. A n y o n e who will not own a private bomb shelter will have no status at all — just a bum who will be killed by an A or H bomb or a fallout.

Of course, as time and hysteria move their merry way, the bomb shelters will be dug deeper and deeper and perhaps they will be connected by underground sidewalks and later by an underground road system so that automobiles will be able to move higher and thither. It will truly be wonderful to live in underground caves. Only the poor will live above ground. They will see grass and trees and roads and the sky but they will have no status. And when the bomb falls, they will be killed first and there will be no one to bury them.

But what happens if no bomb falls? We shall, of course, have another boom. This time, it will be to convert shelters into playrooms. And there will be a clever manufacturer who will make special kinds of barbecues for a party down underneath and it will be fun to dress like the Devil and to roast a pig or a goat on a spit, the Devil acting as chef. Special music will be written for such an occasion and the recording business will boom selling Hell music and there will be special costumes for all sorts of occasions and jokers will desire ideas like exchanging wives and having orgies about which books will be written and sold by the million.

There will be a boom converting shelters into evidences of leisure and luxury. And whoever will not own an underground play room will be a poor simp who did not make the grade. It is like not having money enough to join a country club or to change the porch furniture every summer.

Television will thrive on these booms. Beautiful girls with well modulated voices and long fingernails will be used as models for all sorts of devices of luxury and idleness. And the poor dears will eat no food that adds to one's figure an ounce of flesh. In fact, all ready food substitutes are being advertised, so that a girl drinks her breakfast to keep her hips flat.

Ans so there will be another boom because the doctors will discover that thinness is bad for the lungs and awful for the feet and that everyone should eat real food, such as meat and butter and

Try and Stop Me

GOSSIP HAS IT that Eve didn't say "yes" to Adam for quite a while. "I cannot stand this suspense one day longer," Adam is reputed to have declared. "Is there some- one else?" Eve cast a furtive look around the Garden and murmured, "That's what I'd like to know."

"What makes you so sure," inquired a magistrate, "that your butcher's scales are crooked?"
"For one thing," maintained the complaining housewife, "I didn't buy a thing from the robber this morning, and his scale registered four pounds."

"Look at that funny man across the street," suggested a little girl to her mother. "What's funny about him?" asked the mother indulgently. "He's sitting on the sidewalk," reported the little girl, "talking to a banana peel."

What could cause this?
Dear Mr. H.: Any number of conditions could cause it, ranging from long years of outdoor living to a few short months of liver trouble.

Your doctor can tell which. Dear Doctor: Every few weeks pianful right-sided cramps keep me rushing to the bathroom. Other times I have bloating gas pains that even wake me up.

I want a checkup, but my doctor tells me to forget about it. What should I do?

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Piecemeal work stoppages in the auto industry are upsetting the time schedule for at least a part of the business recovery. The resulting slowdown in total industrial output frets the way-out optimists.

But a calmer view is that the economy as a whole has become so complex that even trouble in the important auto industry does not pull at the weight today it did a decade or two back.

The general economy remains healthy—not booming as some hoped it would be by now—but hardly running into trouble yet as some fear.

The industries that supply the auto makers, notably steel, are hit by the work stoppages, first at General Motors, then at Ford, with Chrysler labor negotiations still to reach the showdown stage. To these industries the slowdown is indeed disappointing.

But the whole economy is now weighted so much by a growing number of industries and even more spectacularly by the increasing role of services, that Detroit's troubles are serious but scarcely fatal to recovery hopes for increasing general prosperity in the months ahead.

Even before the delay in total labor peace in the auto industry, some economists were warning against expecting the unusually brisk pace of the recovery, in late spring and early summer, from the brief and relatively mild recession to be maintained throughout the year. They look for a steady but slower gain for a time.

The auto labor troubles are painful enough to many suppliers, however. The steel industry had looked for a big jump ahead in October. Instead, total orders from the auto firms have been trimmed, or at best set back, by the piecemeal shutdowns. Steel now talks hopefully about November and December.

Other industries that would like to see auto production in full swing in these, the opening months of the new model year, include glass, rubber, plastics, textiles, aluminum, copper, lead.

Just how much of final demand

is being delayed, and how much is lost, by the auto plant shutdowns is yet to be determined.

But as important as auto buying by consumers is, their total spending is more significant in timing the course of a business recovery. They have many other ways of spending their money. Far far they have been spending just about as much money as ever—neither pulling in their horns very much during the recession, nor aggressively buying during the recovery.

A number of pulse takers report consumer buying attitudes are improving. If so, business in general will be much happier.

The spending plans of business itself—whether for inventories or for increased production or for expansion—are looking a little brighter.

So the months ahead should be good, in the view of most economists, but only a few are predicting anything yet that could be labeled an outstanding boom.

And the poor dears will eat no food that adds to one's figure an ounce of flesh. In fact, already food substitutes are being advertised, so that a girl drinks her breakfast to keep her hips flat.

And so there will be another boom because the doctors will discover that thinness is bad for the lungs and awful for the feet and that everyone should eat real food, such as meat and butter and bread. Then the researchers will rediscover how grand — mother made pop-overs and how good fried mush was if true maple syrup was used with it.

And so the cycle of life turns even as the Earth and all the stars turn in their rhythmic way and we shall be back where we started, eating an ice cream sundae covered up with marshmallows and chopped walnuts and adding 500 calories with each dish, as boy looks into the lovely green eyes of girl and thinks of the babies to come who will live in an uncontaminated world.

I have been in a shelter deep in a mountain and down very far, but then that was built so that if war ever came, we could go on fighting no matter what the Russians blew up. It looked like a comfortable place and must have cost lots of millions to build and furnish. But there was no live cow and no steaks hanging in the ice-box and notherin on hand but synthetic rations that taste like chocolate bars. Somebody said that war is hell and we sure are preparing for a life in hell.

HIS SON LIVES AGAIN—John Sprung of Lawndale, Pa., breaks into tears in New York as he sees his son, Helmut, 20, for the first time in 16 years. Sprung brought his family to the U.S. in 1955, long after he thought Helmut had been a war victim. A friend found the boy alive and wrote to Sprung.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

GOSSIP HAS IT that Eve didn't say "yes" to Adam for quite a while. "I cannot stand this suspense one day longer," Adam is reputed to have declared. "Is there some other else?" Eve cast a furtive look around the Garden and murmured, "That's what I'd like to know."

"Look at that funny man across the street," suggested a little girl to her mother. "What's funny about him?" asked the mother indulgently. "He's sitting on the sidewalk," reported the little girl, "talking to a banana peel."

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M. D.

Dear Doctor: My chest, arms and shoulders are covered with brown spots. Now, small red spots are breaking out, too. I'm tired all the time.

What could cause this?

Dear Mr. H.: Any number of conditions could cause it, ranging from long years of outdoor living to a few short months of liver trouble.

Your doctor can tell which. Dear Doctor: Every few weeks painful right-sided cramps keep me rushing to the bathroom. Other times I have bloating gas pains that even wake me up.

I want a checkup, but my doctor tells me to forget about it.

What should I do?

Dear Mrs. V.: Forget about this doctor! You need one who — after checking for serious illness — will treat those troubles, which are certainly serious to you.

Soothing medicines and diets without roughage can relax intestinal cramps.

Dear Doctor: Will boiled peanuts help colitis, too?

Dear Doctor: Will roasted peanuts and peanut butter also help ileitis?

Mr. B. G.

Dear B. and Mr. G.: Boiled peanuts have helped at least one ileitis sufferer. No one knows whether they can quiet colitis, too.

New Irish Battalion Slated for U.N. Duty

LONDON (AP)—The Irish Republic is readying a new battalion of troops for service in the Congo with U.N. forces.

It will relieve the 1st Infantry Group and the 35th Battalion, which figured in the recent bitter fighting at Elizabethville and Jadotville, Katanga.

Informants said the new battalion would include a number of troops who have already done Congo service and volunteered for a new tour of duty.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Piecemeal work stoppages in the auto industry are upsetting the time schedule for at least a part of the business recovery. The resulting slowdown in total industrial output frets the way-out optimists.

But a calmer view is that the economy as a whole has become so complex that even trouble in the important auto industry does not pull at the weight today it did a decade or two back.

The general economy remains healthy—not booming as some hoped it would be by now—but hardly running into trouble yet as some fear.

The industries that supply the auto makers, notably steel, are hit by the work stoppages, first at General Motors, then at Ford, with Chrysler labor negotiations still to reach the showdown stage. To these industries the slowdown is indeed disappointing.

But the whole economy is now weighted so much by a growing number of industries and even more spectacularly by the increasing role of services, that Detroit's troubles are serious but scarcely fatal to recovery hopes for increasing general prosperity in the months ahead.

Even before the delay in total labor peace in the auto industry, some economists were warning against expecting the unusually brisk pace of the recovery, in late spring and early summer, from the brief and relatively mild recession to be maintained throughout the year. They look for a steady but slower gain for a time.

The auto labor troubles are painful enough to many suppliers, however. The steel industry had looked for a big jump ahead in October. Instead, total orders from the auto firms have been trimmed, or at best set back, by the piecemeal shutdowns. Steel now talks hopefully about November and December.

Other industries that would like to see auto production in full swing in these, the opening months of the new model year, include glass, rubber, plastics, textiles, aluminum, copper, lead.

Just how much of final demand

is being delayed, and how much is lost, by the auto plant shutdowns is yet to be determined.

But as important as auto buying by consumers is, their total spending is more significant in timing the course of a business recovery. They have many other ways of spending their money. So far they have been spending just about as much money as ever—neither pulling in their horns very much during the recession, nor aggressively buying during the recovery.

A number if pulse takers report consumer buying attitudes are improving. If so, business in general will be much happier.

The spending plans of business itself—whether for inventories or for increased production or for expansion—are looking a little brighter.

So the months ahead should be good, in the view of most economists, but only a few are predicting anything yet that could be labeled an outstanding boom.

Miss Goodman, Mr. Greene Exchange Marriage Vows

MRS. RICHARD T. GREENE

Miss Joyce Melodie Goodman and Mr. Richard Thomas Greene were wed Saturday afternoon in St. Philip's Episcopal Church before an altar lavished with white chrysanthemums and snow pure gladioli.

The impressive double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. William Huber with Mrs. Huber serving as organist.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Betty Goodman of Route 3 and Arthur Goodman of Columbus, was given in marriage by her uncle, J. H. Weiler. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin J. Greene.

Miss Goodman chose a gown fashioned of white nylon lace complemented with scalloped neckline and delicate seed pearls. The floor-length bouffant skirt was enhanced by multi-colored floral patterned lace worn over an old fashioned hoop. Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught in a crown of seed pearls and iridescents.

She carried a prayer book mounted on a bouquet of tufted pink and white carnations.

Mrs. Myron Leist was Miss Goodman's selection as matron of honor. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow carnations and wore a ballerina-length gold nylon taffeta bouffant skirt. Miss Linda Goodman, sister of the bride, carried a matching cascade arrangement of pink carnations while wearing a ballerina-length emerald green nylon taffeta bouffant skirt. Miss Dora Greene, sister of the groom and the other bridesmaid, carried a cascade of pink carnations while wearing a matching skirt.

The attendants wore sterling silver spiral necklaces, a gift of the bride.

Mr. Arthur Greene was his brother's best man. Fredric Goodman, also a brother of the bride, and Laurence Mallet served as ushers. Mrs. Goodman chose a dark green Italian wood plaid dress with accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Greene wore a beige dress with tan accessories. Both carried full white carnation corsages.

Mrs. Howard B. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. David Craven, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hutzelman, Mrs. John McConnell, Miss Patricia Easterday and Miss Sandra Young formed a committee to conduct a delightful reception following the ceremony in St. Philip's Parish House.

The bride's table was centered by an impressive tiered cake skillfully decorated with white button chrysanthemums and streaming garlands of ivy by Mrs. Davis S. Craven.

After the reception the bride, attired in a becoming black wool suit with white accessories, and the groom left for a week's wedding trip to Niagara Falls, N. Y. When they return the new couple will reside at 3710 Briggs Rd., Columbus.

The new Mrs. Green is a graduate of Circleville High School and the Mt. Carmel Hospital School of Nursing. She is employed at Mt. Carmel Hospital. Mr. Greene is a graduate of Jackson Twp. High School and Bliss Business College and is now a managerial trainee of the Woolworth Co.

Welfare Worker Addresses Kingston Civic Organization

Lee W. Rinehart of Lancaster, a field representative of the state Division of Aid for the Aged, was the featured speaker for the October meeting of the Kingston Civic Club in the home of Mrs. Robert Rounsley.

Rinehart stressed the need for volunteer workers to carry on the work of his division without additional employment, using tax funds at the state and federal levels of government. He noted such volunteers should be trained to be receptive, patient, and friendly with the persons which they seek to help.

Sharing the speaker's rostrum with Rinehart was Mrs. Charles Whitaker, Girl Scout consultant. She commented favorably on services provided for the community through donations to the United Fund.

Mrs. Winston Hood presided for the business meeting. Mrs. John Ralston, who has been on the inactive membership list, was reinstated to full member status and Mrs. Edward Bennett was initiated as a new member.

finger tip veil of illusion was caught in a crown of seed pearls and iridescents.

She carried a prayer book mounted on a bouquet of tufted pink and white carnations.

Mrs. Myron Leist was Miss Goodman's selection as matron of honor. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow carnations and wore a ballerina-length gold nylon taffeta bouffant skirt. Miss Linda Goodman, sister of the bride, carried a matching cascade arrangement of pink carnations while wearing a ballerina-length emerald green nylon taffeta bouffant skirt. Miss Dora Greene, sister of the groom and the other bridesmaid, carried a cascade of pink carnations while wearing a matching skirt.

The attendants wore sterling silver spiral necklaces, a gift of the bride.

Mr. Arthur Greene was his brother's best man. Fredric Goodman, also a brother of the bride, and Laurence Mallet served as ushers. Mrs. Goodman chose a dark green Italian wood plaid dress with accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Greene wore a beige dress with tan accessories. Both carried full white carnation corsages.

Mrs. Howard B. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. David Craven, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hutzelman, Mrs. John McConnell, Miss Patricia Easterday and Miss Sandra Young formed a committee to conduct a delightful reception following the ceremony in St. Philip's Parish House.

The bride's table was centered by an impressive tiered cake skillfully decorated with white button chrysanthemums and streaming garlands of ivy by Mrs. Davis S. Craven.

After the reception the bride, attired in a becoming black wool suit with white accessories, and the groom left for a week's wedding trip to Niagara Falls, N. Y. When they return the new couple will reside at 3710 Briggs Rd., Columbus.

The new Mrs. Green is a graduate of Circleville High School and the Mt. Carmel Hospital School of Nursing. She is employed at Mt. Carmel Hospital. Mr. Greene is a graduate of Jackson Twp. High School and Bliss Business College and is now a managerial trainee at the Woolworth Co.

Arkansas Conservatives Set To Try To Unseat Fulbright

WASHINGTON (AP) — A king-sized effort apparently is going to be made by conservatives to unseat Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., in next year's Arkansas senatorial primary.

Fulbright, who heads the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, took notice of this Monday when he announced in Little Rock that he will be a candidate for re-election "unless it is obvious the people of Arkansas no longer want me to represent them."

Fulbright added that he was aware of some dissatisfaction among state voters because of his involvement with foreign affairs.

Because he is outspoken in his views, Fulbright has raised some State Department eyebrows with recent comments. His statement in London last week that the West bears heavy responsibilities for the situation in Berlin disturbed Kennedy administration leaders.

Back in this country, Fulbright called an airport news conference to say that his remarks were directed at the "dilatory tactics" employed by Western leaders in 1944 and 1945 and not at current talks about Berlin.

This may have left the Arkansas senator in a sort of hair-shirt classification, so far as the administration is concerned. But few politicians thought it disturbed the Arkansas voters materially.

Much more important from a state standpoint, perhaps, may have been Fulbright's memorandum to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara in which the senator complained about military sponsorship of public forums which featured "extremist speeches" about alleged Communist infiltration in schools, churches and government.

In the storm over the alleged muzzling of military leaders, Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., has won an inquiry by a special Armed Services subcommittee into the situation.

Rep. Dale Alford, D-Ark., who has aligned himself with several conservative groups, has given every sign that he intends to contest Fulbright for the nomination. In the background is Gov. Orval Faubus who might decide to go after the senatorial nomination.

City Court Receipts Total Is $5,048

The total receipts for the month were disbursed as follows: City of Circleville, $3,198.01; Pickaway County, $846.83; Auditor of State (45 per cent of Highway Patrol Fines and bond forfeitures); $849.71; Sheriff's Department, $23.50; Department of Natural Resources, $105.25; and a refund of a fine to Robert Charles Swan, $24.

A total of 180 new criminal cases were filed during September and 171 cases were disposed of, leaving nine cases pending in the court as of October 1.

Ex-State Aide To Get Parole

Tax Employee Jailed For Taking Bribe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An employee of the state tax department convicted two years ago of accepting bribes in axle-mile truck tax cases will be paroled soon.

The Pardon and Parole Commission also granted paroles to two Toledoans who were convicted of bank robbery after the credit union office at their place of employment was entered.

Thomas A. Greiner of Columbus, 38, is the former state employee. He is being paroled on or after Nov. 9 after serving time since Nov. 14, 1959 on a 1-10-year sentence.

Pardon and Parole Commission records show that Greiner was a field examiner who admitted receiving $1,800 from the Fineman-Tetson Co., for reducing an axle-mile tax assessment against it and taking $2,200 for a refund of an assessment against Harwood Trucking Co.

His indictment alleged he solicited or accepted bribes in four situations that netted him $5,500 in all, but two of the counts were not prosecuted.

Kenneth Johnson now 36, and Joseph A. Harris, 39, also will be paroled Nov. 9 after penitentiary confinement since Feb. 18, 1953, and Oct. 11, 1951, respectively, in the break-in of the Willys-Overland Co. federal credit union in Toledo April 6, 1951.

Denying their guilt and contending a credit union is not a bank, Harris carried appeals to the Ohio Supreme Court and Johnson to an appellate court.

The crime saw two men wearing rubber masks, one carrying a gun enter the credit union office at the start of the day's business. A clerk was struck on the head as she leaned over a safe. Her screams routed the intruders. Two men, without masks were seen crawling out of an office window. A cap, traced to Harris, was found at the scene.

There was approximately $40,000 in the credit union office. None of the money was taken.

In all, the commission at its latest penitentiary hearings granted 98 paroles and 17 re-paroles while continuing 89 cases.

Lana Turner Told To Pay $20,000

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Lana Turner must pay $20,000 to the 13-year-old son of Johnny Stompanato, who was slain in her house.

Superior Court approved the settlement Monday. Stompanato was stabbed to death in Miss Turner's Beverly Hills home April 4, 1958, by her daughter, Cheryl Crane, now 17. A coroner's jury termed it justifiable homicide after the girl said Stompanato had threatened her mother.

Stompanato's divorced wife, Sara Stompanato of Hammond, Ind., sought $750,000 from Miss Turner and her former husband, Stephen Crane. She claimed negligence caused the death and deprived Stompanato's son, John III of support.

ALL GATOR — Boots and matching handbag were made from alligator skin for the winter collection of Durer of Paris.

New Gallipolis Honor Camp Opened by State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio penal system today opened its 14th honor camp for adult inmates. It is on the grounds of the Gallipolis State Institute.

Corrections Commissioner M.C. Koblenz said all inmates of the new camp will come from the London Correctional Institution. The first contingent sent to the camp numbered 25 although it has a capacity of 40.

The inmates are housed in an unused building which was remodeled for the purpose.

Mickey Rooney Shuns Past, Is Enthused about His School

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Lots of people spend their time fretting about the past," Mickey Rooney philosophized. "Me, I only care about the present and the future."

This was the unstoppable Mick thumping his turned-up nose at his misfortunes, which are enough to sink a man twice his size.

"Oh, I've had a few financial problems," he said airily. "It has

'SPRING' — Workman Timoteo Incarni holds the head of "Spring," uncovered during excavating in the Arno River bed near Florence, Italy, at site of a medieval bridge. The head belongs to a statue which adorns Florence's Santa Trinita, along with three other statues representing the seasons. The bridge was blown up in World War II. This is the last of the four statues to be recovered.

Ex-Banker's Hearing Slated for Monday

CINCINNATI (AP) — The hearing of John Sebald Ferris on a federal charge of embezzling $6,137 has been continued until Monday—partly because of the World Series.

Ferris, 44, was arraigned Sept. 19 on the charge of embezzling the money from Oxford National Bank and making false entries in the bank's income account to conceal the embezzlement. He is a former head cashier and director of the bank.

The hearing originally was scheduled for Monday afternoon — conflicting with the fifth Series game. It was moved back to 10 a.m., but a government witness failed to get notice of the change Hunt said.

become very chic to sue Rooney. Okay, let 'em. I forgive 'em."

Rooney has other things to think about. They include:

1. The impending birth of his sixth child. "I believe in lots of children. Maybe it's because I was an only child. After all, you should leave something behind when you leave this earth."

2. His career. "I'm busy. Did a Dick Powell show which turned out okay. Got 'Breakfast at Tiffany's' and 'Roaring Twenties' coming out in theaters. Going to New York for 'Naked City' and 'Requiem for a Heavyweight.' Own 50 per cent of 'Everything's Ducky,' which is a good family film I did with Buddy Hackett. I'll be doing more with Buddy. Going to team up with Bobby Van in night clubs, also make a TV series with Bobby for my own company."

3. His enterprise the Mickey Rooney School of Entertainment. When he gets started on this subject, you'd better just sit back and listen.

"I've been thinking about this for 20 years," he said, gathering steam. "What this country needs is a good school in every city where we can develop the stars of tomorrow."

Rooney stands ready to do the job. He whipped out a brochure which he has been poring over for weeks. It will total 40 pages and offer franchises and an organizational plan whereby schools can offer a year's talent training at $585, payable over an 18-month period.

"Think of it!" Rooney enthused. "For $30 month, youngsters can get training in tap, ballet, singing, drama and so forth. Then we'll have regional contests to pick the best talent, ending in a televised show in Madison Square Garden for the world series of entertainment."

"This is where the Judy Garlands, the Mickey Rooneys, the Shirley Temples, the Doris Days, the Rock Hudsons of tomorrow will come from."

Electricity Is Used In Ribbon Cutting

CLEVELAND (AP) — Electricity was used instead of scissors at the ribbon cutting ceremony dedicating Case Institute of Technology's new $2.7 million metallurgy building Tuesday.

Instead of clipping a cloth ribbon, a high-voltage electric current was used to heat and part a thin steel tape stretched across the lobby.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Fair skies and mild temperatures highlighted Ohio's weather during the night and early morning. Some ground fog gathered in the river valleys and low places just before dawn, but a light wind from the south prevented heavy formation.

By mid-morning cloudiness spread into the western portions of the state in advance of a low pressure area and attendant cold front in the Western Upper Great Lakes.

Partly cloudy afternoon skies will precede scattered showers over the state tonight. Temperatures during the night will be mostly in the mid-50s.

The outlook is for partly sunny skies and somewhat cooler temperatures Thursday.

Some early morning temperatures were Columbus 54, Dayton 55, Cincinnati 58 and Cleveland 54.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average one to three degrees above normal. Normal 64-65, normal low 43-47. A little cooler but still unseasonably warm early period, much cooler over the weekend. Rainfall will average about one-half of an inch in scattered showers daily through Saturday.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO — Temperatures will average near normal, except three to five degrees above normal east. Normal high 67, normal low 44. Cooler Thursday and Friday, a slow warming trend about Sunday or Monday. Rainfall will average from one-fourth to three-fourths of an inch in occasional showers mostly tonight or early Thursday. Generally fair by the weekend.

Pennsy Railroad Wins $200,000 Suit in Court

CLEVELAND (AP) — A $200,000 suit against the Pennsylvania Railroad by an employee has resulted in a federal court ruling in favor of the railroad.

Judge Paul Jones ruled Tuesday that John A. Pergola, 33, of Canton failed to show a railroad police officer who arrested him in October 1958 acted with malice.

Pergola had been charged with stealing $50 worth of stainless steel from railroad property. He was acquitted in the Canton Municipal court in January 1959.

FBI Says Ex-Diplomat Given Gift by Polish Red Agents

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former diplomat Irvin C. Scarbeck was given a decanter and six glasses as a going away present by Polish Red agents he is accused of furnishing with secret U.S. documents, says an FBI agent.

The agent, Patrick M. Rice, went over much of the same ground Tuesday that was testified to previously—that Scarbeck, 41, was surprised by Polish agents in bed with his mistress, Ursula Discher, 22, and that he was blackmailed into turning over embassy secrets to the Communists.

This was the third account of confessions Scarbeck allegedly gave to State Department security agents and FBI men, Defense Counsel Samuel Klein is objecting to admitting any of the statements. The argument is being heard without a jury until Judge Leonard Walsh rules on the point.

Scarbeck, former second secretary of the U.S. Embassy in Warsaw, is being tried on charges of giving four classified papers to Polish agents.

Klein said he plans to put Scarbeck on the stand before argument is completed on whether the alleged confessions can be admitted into evidence.

Rice's account of what he said Scarbeck told him June 7, 8 and 9 in Washington included a description of how Scarbeck became involved with Miss Discher.

On Sept. 4, 1959, the day he packed off his German-born wife and their children for a visit at her parents' home in Germany, Miss Discher called the embassy about a job, Rice said.

Scarbeck answered and told her he was "intrigued by her voice." He made an immediate date. After a few more dates, he persuaded her to drive with him as far as the Polish border on his way to Germany to bring back his wife and family. On the way he made advances and "she acquiesced and they did have intimate relations."

Rice said Scarbeck told him that he soon was seeing Miss Discher nightly and had intimate relations with her on an average of once a night for a period of six months.

On the night of Dec. 22, 1960, in Warsaw Polish agents burst into the girl's room and photographed the pair in bed.

The agents threatened, according to the testimony, to take action against both of them if Scarbeck didn't give them secret information.

Among the threats they made was that they would put Miss Discher in a prison "where she would be subject to particular indignities — made available to soldiers and the like," testified State Department security officer Charles W. Lyons.

Music Union Debates Fund For Petrillo

CHICAGO (AP)—The sound of the Chicago Federation of Musicians Union meeting was anything but harmonious during a debate over the amount of pension that should be granted the local's veteran maestro.

But harmony was restored, more or less, when the maestro himself, James C. Petrillo, took the podium Tuesday and waived a pension, stipulating that the money be used to set up the James C. Petrillo Music Appreciation Fund.

The fund, to be used to present music education and performances in grade schools, will be financed by the local at the rate of $25,000 a year beginning Jan. 1.

But before Petrillo, president of the local for 39 years, agreed to this proposal by one of 600 members at the local's annual meeting the debate was loud and long and punctuated with sour notes.

The local's directors had proposed that Petrillo, 69, be pensioned at full salary, $500 a week, when he retires—if he does. In 1958 Petrillo retired as president of the American Federation of Musicians after holding office 18 years. He declined the federation's offer of a $20,000 pension.

At Tuesday's meeting, several delegates presented proposals for lesser pensions. Lillian Poonisch, a clarinet player, suggested the music foundation for school children.

The next annual meeting and election of officers is scheduled for November 1962.

Newsman asked Petrillo his plans after the meeting. "I don't know what I'm going to do," he said.

Finegan Due To Quit Post In AFL-CIO

CLEVELAND (AP)—The resignation of William Finegan, executive secretary of the Cleveland AFL-CIO Federation of Labor, will be submitted to CFL delegates at their regular meeting tonight.

The CFL's executive board Tuesday approved severance pay of $16,900, one year's pay, for Finegan, who is to resign Dec. 1, the end of his first year of a two-year term.

Some delegates are expected to protest the board's approval of these two conditions. Reports are they want an immediate resignation from Finegan. No successor to Finegan was announced.

The board met to hear a report from a six-man committee appointed two weeks ago to investigate charges against Finegan by the CIO wing of the executive board.

Finegan reportedly resigned so no action would be taken by the sub-committee or the board on the charges. He is said to be interested in keeping the two groups together.

He has been under fire for failing to support the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists in its fight with the Teamsters Union for bargaining rights for 960 employees of the Gabriel Co. The Teamsters won. Finegan also faced charges of failing to support the AFL-CIO Bakers, Union in its fight with the Independent Bakers Local 19.

Finegan also has been accused of refusing to turn over CFL financial records to the national AFL-CIO which asked for them.

If CFL delegates approve Finegan's resignation, he has indicated he would become an international representative of the Teamsters Union.

Cigarettes vs. Health

Q. Is lung cancer directly related to smoking?

A. The American Cancer Society supported statistical studies that show an association between smoking, lung cancer, and shortened life. The U. S. Public Health Service Chief said in 1959: "The weight of evidence is increasingly pointing in one direction: that excessive smoking is one of the causative factors in lung cancer." The final answer is yet to come. The tobacco industry and other groups have spent millions to prove or disprove a link between smoking and cancer, but research has still not provided a clear-cut answer.

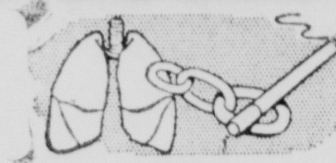

Rapid Sobering-Up

Q. Is there a way to sober-up quickly?

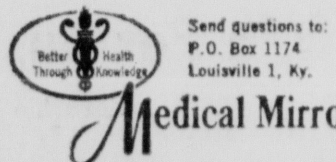

A. Rapid sobering-up from the drunken state is not easily achieved. In fact, it must be admitted that at the present time there is no certain way of rendering a drunken person sober and socially acceptable any more quickly than were no "treatment" attempted.

Late Development

Q. My 17-year-old son is physically very immature. His brother started developing at about 14. What would you advise?

A. In most places the legal age of puberty (the state of physical development when it is first possible to beget or bear children) is fixed at fourteen for boys and twelve for girls. However, "growing up" doesn't follow man-made laws and it is not so unusual for puberty to be delayed to age 17 or, rarely, even beyond. Development may then begin naturally and progress normally. Late maturity may be a sort of family characteristic but it would be best to have the 17-year-old examined by a physician. If any reason can be found for the delay, treatment may then be begun without further delay.

Experts Warn Another Flu Season Ahead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
What to do if you get the flu, how throat swabs may help stop some heart disease, and a new aid for heart surgeons are subjects for Focus on Health: Flu This Fall?

Health experts warn another flu season approaches. While the chance of an epidemic cannot be predicted, certain protective measures can be taken. Pregnant women, the elderly and people with chronic diseases should be vaccinated.

Here are other suggestions from the Connecticut State Department of Health:

Stay away from sick people. If flu breaks out, keep away from crowds. Be sure to wash your hands well before eating — and don't use glasses or other utensils that others have used. Get plenty of sleep. Avoid being chilled. If you do get sick call your doctor and go to bed—for your good and the good of others.

Medical Messenger
A new attack against rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease involves the Post Office Department.

Chicago doctors are getting throat swab kits suitable for mailing as the latest aid to diagnosing the disease that brings on rheumatic fever. Caught in the early stages it can be cured.

A type of streptococcus germ sets the stage for rheumatic fever. Doctors will be able to take a throat swab from a sick patient, seal it in an envelope and mail it to a laboratory where the type of germ can be identified.

If the specimen is the dangerous kind, the doctor can find out quickly before rheumatic fever has a chance to develop. The mail-in system was devised by the Chicago Heart Association and Board of Health.

Heartbeat Trigger
In the heart there is a critical bundle of nerves which controls the heartbeat.

Some children are born with defective hearts. For surgeons trying to repair those hearts the heartbeat center is often a hazard.

An operation in which surgeons try to mend a hole between two chambers of the heart comes dangerously close to the heartbeat trigger. Injury occurs in perhaps 10 per cent of these operations and may lead to death.

Now a new electronic instrument can exactly locate the center in a matter of minutes. Developed at the Children's Hospital Medical Center, Boston the device is expected to completely eliminate the possibility that the heartbeat trigger will be injured during open heart surgery.

Rusk Warns Aides About Mistakes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk today cautioned U.S. foreign aid employees against committing mistakes which could cause loss of American public support for the overseas assistance program.

Rusk said in a talk to employees of the newly reorganized Agency for International Development that any shortcomings are bound to be seized upon by enemies of the undertaking in an effort to cut off the program.

"We must enlist the support of the American public for substantial aid for an indefinite number of years," Rusk said as he presented the new agency chief, Fowler Hamilton, to his employees. Hamilton told the group that aid is aimed at promoting the ability of new countries in the world to maintain their independence.

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — John Moore, 26, of Middletown has been indicted of first-degree murder by the Butler County grand jury for the fatal shooting of Minnie Belle Ford, 37, of Hamilton July 15.

The grand jury also indicted Moore Tuesday on a charge of shooting to kill Charles Harris, 24, of Xenia at the same time. Police said Moore admitted he shot Harris and Miss Ford after a quarrel.

Experts Warn Another Flu Season Ahead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
What to do if you get the flu, how throat swabs may help stop some heart disease, and a new aid for heart surgeons are subjects for Focus on Health: Flu This Fall?

Health experts warn another flu season approaches. While the chance of an epidemic cannot be predicted, certain protective measures can be taken. Pregnant women, the elderly and people with chronic diseases should be vaccinated.

Here are other suggestions from the Connecticut State Department of Health:

Stay away from sick people. If flu breaks out, keep away from crowds. Be sure to wash your hands well before eating — and don't use glasses or other utensils that others have used. Get plenty of sleep. Avoid being chilled. If you do get sick, call your doctor and go to bed—for your good and the good of others.

Medical Messenger
A new attack against rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease involves the Post Office Department.

Chicago doctors are getting throat swab kits suitable for mailing as the latest aid to diagnosing the disease that brings on rheumatic fever. Caught in the early stages it can be cured.

A type of streptococcus germ sets the stage for rheumatic fever. Doctors will be able to take a throat swab from a sick patient, seal it in an envelope and mail it to a laboratory where the type of germ can be identified.

If the specimen is the dangerous kind, the doctor can find out quickly before rheumatic fever has a chance to develop. The mail-in system was devised by the Chicago Heart Association and Board of Health.

Heartbeat Trigger
In the heart there is a critical bundle of nerves which controls the heartbeat.

Some children are born with defective hearts. For surgeons trying to repair those hearts the heartbeat center is often a hazard.

An operation in which surgeons try to mend a hole between two chambers of the heart comes dangerously close to the heartbeat trigger. Injury occurs in perhaps 10 per cent of these operations and may lead to death.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Dutch Treat and More

DEAR ABBY: I am 33 and very homely, and I know it. I am not dumb, though. I had a very unhappy childhood, but I won't go into that. I've given men ten and twenty-dollar bills to take me out, and everybody thinks I'm terrible. My friends tell me I am crazy to spend my money like that, but I am lonely and no one ever asks to take me anywhere unless I pay. I don't see where it is any more wrong for a woman to take a man out and show him a good time than it is for a man to take a woman out. When you come right down to it, men buy companionship. So what's wrong with a woman doing the same thing if she has the money?

DEAR LONELY: Traditionally, men have always "treated" the ladies, but if you are willing to pay your way—and his, and are satisfied with the kind of companionship you attract with your philosophy, then there is nothing wrong with it.

DEAR ABBY: Yesterday my mother told me to clean the kitchen. I found two rusty old pie tins on the top shelf that hadn't been used for years, so I threw them out. The next day my mother told me she had thirty dollars hidden between the pie tins. The garbage man had already hauled away our trash, so the thirty dollars were lost. I suppose I should have asked her before throwing away the pie tins, but I think it was mostly her fault for putting the money in such a place. She is so mad she hardly speaks to me. Do you think I was in the wrong?

DEAR FEELING: You should not have been blamed for throwing out two worthless old pie tins. Both you and your mother had a very expensive lesson.

DEAR ABBY: I know a young woman quite well. I have heard a rumor that she had a child out of wedlock when she was 16 or 17. How can I find out if this is true or not?

INTERESTED MAN
DEAR INTERESTED: If she means something to you—ask her. If she means nothing to you—it's none of your business.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WRONG-ED": A good memory is fine... but the ability to "forget" is the true test of greatness. Forget it!

What's troubling you? Write Abby, care of Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Include self-addressed stamped envelope.

Ex-White House Fashion Aide Defends First Lady's Tastes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mollie Parnis, who designed clothes for two former first ladies, thinks Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy "ought to be able to wear what she wants"—including slacks, scarves and French fashions.

Now jokingly known among her New York fashion colleagues as "the out-of-season White House designer" Miss Parnis takes a sympathetic view of first ladies' fashion problems. They have plenty of them, she reports.

Miss Parnis rates Mrs. Kennedy 32, as having a natural flair for clothes—she looks good in just about anything from bathing suit to formal, says the designer.

If Mrs. Kennedy wants to wear a scarf on her head in the country, that's okay with Miss Parnis.

She says some women, taking a look at that properly tied scarf, might learn something.

As for French styles: Miss Parnis says it's "old fashioned" to think a first lady has to wear only American-designed clothes.

"If an occasional French dress gives Mrs. Kennedy a lift—and to what women would it not give a lift—why not?" says Miss Parnis.

Miss Parnis didn't just come out with these views. A group of Washington reporters besieged her with questions on the subject at a recent New York meeting. She designed clothes for Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Mrs. Harry S. Truman while they were White House occupants.

Citing problems of a first lady, Miss Parnis said it's "an agonizing experience" for a fashion conscious young woman like Mrs. Kennedy, who loved to go into stores and shop, not to be able to do so.

Because she can't do that anymore, Miss Parnis explains, Mrs. Kennedy has to have someone she can trust—like Oleg Cassini whom she chose as her personal designer, to shop for her.

Ohioans Get Tax Reduction By New Law Starting Monday

Ohioans will get a tax reduction under a new law enacted by the 104th Ohio General Assembly, to be effective Oct. 16, State Rep. Ed Wallace of Pickaway County pointed out today.

It is the new law which removes the sales tax from 1. Medicines dispensed by a pharmacist upon orders of a physician. 2. Artificial limbs. 3. Medically prescribed devices to be applied to or around a weakened part of a body to give support and increase its function. 4. Wheel chairs.

The new law, State Rep. Wallace said, will save Ohioans an estimated $3,000,000 a year.

Two other new laws, designed to provide increased facilities for education of Ohio's youth beyond the high school, will go into effect Oct. 20.

One authorizes the establishment of a community college district for operation of two - year community college programs of instruction in arts and sciences and permits adult education also. It allows such college districts in counties having at least 100,000 population or in two or more contiguous counties with the same amount of population.

The other new law authorizes establishment of university branch districts to provide for university branch campus facilities and permits the creation of technical institute districts for technical education.

It permits these local governments to create branch districts if a university branch has been operating in the governmental unit for two full years: a municipality of 50,000 or more population at the last census; a county of 50,000 or more and two or more contiguous counties with combined population of at least 50,000.

A new law designed to help solve some of the problems of Ohio's sprawling metropolitan areas will become effective Oct. 16.

It will permit a county's electors to adopt an alternative form of county government including primarily a policy - making board of county commissioners with an elected or appointed county executive officer.

It also will permit boards of county commissioners of 3, 5, 7, or 9 members, the number to be decided by the electors.

The question of alternative form of county government would be

Fallout Shelter

Builder Is Arrested

DECATUR, Ill. (AP)—A. Webster Borchers, 55, was arrested Monday night on a charge of constructing a fallout shelter without a city building permit.

"I think it's ridiculous," Borchers said today after obtaining his liberty on $100 bond. "Nobody can say you don't have the right to defend yourself until you ask permission."

Requiring a building permit to protect a family amounts to paying a tribute to the city for a special privilege, he added.

Guests at Tuesday night's affair—honoring members of the Supreme Court, judiciary and other top officials—were informal clothes instead of traditional formal dress. The reception began at 6 p.m. instead of the usual 9 p.m. starting time.

The President's wife wore a square-necked short black dress with a black Ottoman skirt and heavily beaded jet black came sole top.

DuPont Construction Division Has No Lost-Time Injuries

For the third time, a safety record without parallel in the construction industry — a full year without a lost - time injury — has been set by DuPont Construction Division men at 4 heavy building sites in 13 states, including the one in Circleville.

At the close of work last Saturday, more than 7 DuPont employees had worked 12 consecutive months without a lost-time injury.

In addition, about 4,000 employees of subcontractors on these sites, following the same safety practices prescribed for DuPont employees, chalked up 10 consecutive months without any lost time due to chalked up 10 consecutive months an on-the-job accident.

For this period, the two groups worked a total of nearly 14 million safe exposure hours. Had they followed the accident frequency rate of the construction industry as a whole, upwards of 420 crippling injuries, or even deaths, might have been expected.

K. G. Caughman Jr., field project manager for Circleville construction, said, "I am proud that our group here played an important role in this unique achievement. We have worked 135,200 safe exposure hours and have not had a major injury for 14 months."

This marks the third time that DuPont construction units scored a 12 - month perfect safety record. On two prior occasions, April 5, 1955, and June 14, 1957, Construction Division personnel completed a year with an unblemished record.

In recognition of this achievement, specially designed safety citation medals will be awarded to all employees at ceremonies at each site.

Ex-Newport Officials Are Banned from Office

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Gov. Bert Combs issued the executive orders today barring two former Newport officials from public office for the next four years.

Affected were George Gugel, whose term as police chief expired, and Leroy Fredericks, who resigned as detective chief.

Both, along with two other officials, were charged with neglect of duty last spring and ordered to face ouster proceedings.

Ohioans Get Tax Reduction By New Law Starting Monday

Ohioans will get a tax reduction under a new law enacted by the 104th Ohio General Assembly, to be effective Oct. 16, State Rep. Ed Wallace of Pickaway County pointed out today.

It is the new law which removes the sales tax from: 1. Medicines dispensed by a pharmacist upon orders of a physician. 2. Artificial limbs. 3. Medically prescribed devices to be applied to or around a weakened part of a body to give support and increase its function. 4. Wheel chairs.

The new law, State Rep. Wallace said, will save Ohioans an estimated $3,000,000 a year.

Two other new laws, designed to provide increased facilities for education of Ohio's youth beyond the high school, will go into effect Oct. 20.

One authorizes the establishment of a community college district for operation of two - year community college programs of instruction in arts and sciences and permits adult education also. It allows such college districts in counties having at least 100,000 population or in two or more contiguous counties with the same amount of population.

The other new law authorizes establishment of university branch districts to provide for university branch campus facilities and permits the creation of technical institute districts for technical education.

It permits these local governments to create branch districts if a university branch has been operating in the governmental unit for two full years: a municipality of 50,000 or more population at the last census; a county of 50,000 or more and two or more contiguous counties with combined population of at least 50,000.

A new law designed to help solve some of the problems of Ohio's sprawling metropolitan areas will become effective Oct. 16.

It will permit a county's electors to adopt an alternative form of county government including primarily a policy - making board of county commissioners with an elected or appointed county executive officer.

It also will permit boards of county commissioners of 3, 5, 7, or 9 members, the number to be decided by the electors.

The question of alternative form of county government would be

Ryder Cuppers Ready for Test

Yanks Find British Course To Be Tough

LYTHAM ST. ANNE'S, England (AP) — America's Ryder Cup golfers agreed today that, come wind or rain or both, this royal links is a true and tough test for the biennial match against Britain Friday and Saturday.

The Yanks reached this unanimous opinion after playing their first practice rounds over the Lytham St. Anne's course in a drizzling rain, but without the wind that can turn the layout into 6635 yards of treachery.

"It's a real tight course," said Gene Littler, U.S. Open champion, after playing his first 18 holes over British soil.

"You have to hit the ball straight. If you don't—well, brother, you're in trouble."

The Ryder Cup battle—14th in the series and won 10 times by the United States—is certain to draw huge crowds to this vacation coastline in England's northwest.

Upwards of 10,000 people are expected to swarm over the seaside links on each day of the match—eight foursomes on Friday and 16 singles on Saturday, all over 18 holes, morning and afternoon, under the new revised Ryder Cup system.

"The course is in terrific condition," said Mike Souhak, of Grossinger, N.Y. "It only penalizes you when you get where you're not supposed to be."

Jay Herbert, the U.S. team's 38-year-old bachelor, said:

"This course is going to need a lot of local knowledge. It's got plenty of hidden traps but I guess we'll have the feel of it before the match starts."

American captain Jerry Barber ended his first practice round with raindrops dipping from his glasses.

"Sometimes I think the English have an automatic sprinkling system which they turn on whenever foreigners come here to play," Barber said.

2 Yankees Make Dates with Surgeon

NEW YORK (AP) — For most of the New York Yankees, the main business at hand today was to sit back and wait for their fat World Series checks.

Not so for Bob Turley and Luis Arroyo. Both pitchers have operations scheduled. Turley's is important. It could send him back on the firing line as one of the top Yankee hurlers. Arroyo's is a cyst on his wrist.

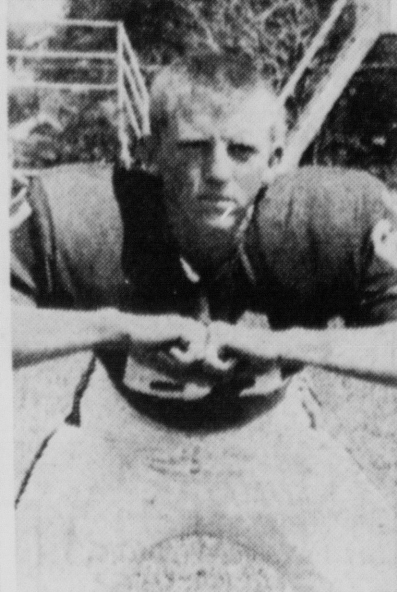

"I'm going into the hospital to have some bone chips removed from my right elbow this week," said Turley the hero of the 1958 World Series.

Golfer Don Whitt registered back-to-back eagles in the 1956 Phoenix Open and in the 1958 Montebello Open. He won the latter.

Midwest Football Seer Says Ohio State To Clobber Illini

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer
CINCINNATI (AP)—The mid-west football seer's batting average looked much better than the Cincinnati Reds' last weekend with a clean prognosticating sweep for a season mark of 13-2-1 (.867).

Here's another bounce of the crystal ball:

Michigan 20, Michigan State 18—A shaky bet on Michigan's more seasoned quarterbacking and rugged linemen. The game is at Ann Arbor.

Are the Wildcats for real? The will be jumping with Wolverine whooping. The contest could be the key to the Big Ten title, especially since Michigan State's Spartans do not meet Iowa or Ohio State.

Northwestern 19, Minnesota 12—Are the Wildcats for real? The Gophers figure to be much tougher than Boston College and Illinois, both clawed badly as the Wildcats loosed a surprise runner, Fullback Bill Swingle.

Iowa 21, Indiana 7 — Iowa's Hawkeyes may not get the breather they expected against an Indiana club which refused to be pushed around by Wisconsin.

Ohio State 24, Illinois 7 — It looks like a long, long season for Pete Elliott's green Illinois. The Bucks can make it, trying fancy stuff or just typical Buckeye cloud-of-dusting.

Purdue 18 Miami of Ohio 6—The Miami Redskins have pulled the rug from under Big Ten teams before.

In 31 PGA golf tournaments in 1960, Doug Sanders of Ojai, Calif., earned $30,371. In 1962, Sanders passed the $33,000 the first nine months on tour.

Boosters Set Plans for Show Projects

Plans for two Pumpkin Show projects were prominent items for discussion last night when the Circleville Booster Club officers and directors met at CHS.

The Boosters will conduct a pumpkinjack and pumpkinpop stand in addition to operating a pony ride concession. Committees were named.

Club officials selected a pumpkinjack recipe after sampling several forms of the drink, prepared by Ralph Starkey and Robert Huffer.

The pumpkinjack booth will be located just east of the annual Ferris wheel site on E. Main St. The pony ride will be set up on S. Court St. across from the post-office.

MEMBERS of the Women's Booster Club Auxiliary have agreed to help operate the pumpkinjack stand. Mrs. Geneva Ullman has lined up work schedules for the ladies.

Other business included the selection of Dec. 9 at the date for the annual football banquet. The speaker, time and place will be determined soon.

A motion to purchase new basketball jackets for the CHS varsity was passed following a lengthy discussion. A move to buy a whirlpool bath for all school athletic teams was tabled until the next meeting.

A report on the fish fry here Sept. 9 disclosed a net profit of more than $300.

World Series Fails

To Boom Cincy Business
CINCINNATI (AP) — The 1961 World Series did not prove to be the boon to Cincinnati businessmen that some had expected.

"We did a very nice business," Joseph Lask, president of the Cincinnati Culinary Council, said when it was all over. "But it was about the same as the business we usually do during a good double-header weekend. And we had expected something a lot better than that."

Businessmen estimated about $1.5 million was spent by out-of-town visitors during the three games — considerably less than many had expected.

When Airmans Guide, a 4-year-old bay filly, won The Beldame at Belmont Park, it was her sixth victory in eight races this year.

The race marked her 12th straight time in the money in the last two years.

New NL Clubs Labeled Weak

$4 Million Player Purchase Analyzed

CINCINNATI Ohio (AP) — At a cost of nearly two million dollars each, Houston and New York have assembled teams today that probably will battle it out for ninth place in 1962 in the now expanded 10-team National League.

The only hope for the Colts and Mets to finish among the first eight is to improve the club through trades, purchases or the sudden emergence of thus far unheralded bonus youngsters.

Despite the seemingly meager pickings in Tuesday's regular and special drafts of players from the eight established National League clubs, both President George Weiss of the Mets and General Manager Paul Richards of the Colts appeared satisfied, at least outwardly.

"We have a strong nucleus for a fine club in a short time," said Richards. "From now on, we ask no favors from anyone."

If the Colts and Mets were to open the 1962 National League season tomorrow, here is how the starting teams probably would shape up:

49ers' 'Shotgun' Sets League Pace

NEW YORK (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers have moved out front as the National Football League's leading team on offense.

The 49ers and their explosive "shotgun" attack have mustered a total of 1,470 yards through the defenses of Washington, Green Bay, Detroit and Los Angeles, the NFL's weekly statistical charts showed today. San Francisco has won three games and lost one.

The Chicago Bears, despite their 2-2 record, have made the second best showing on offense. The Bears have picked up 1,307 yards. Dallas is third with 1,289.

The 49ers lead the league in total rushing yardage with 686, the best pass completion average with 58.8, the most touchdowns with 18, the most touchdowns on running plays with 13 and the most points with 129.

The New York Yankees hit 10 home runs in the 1960 World Series.

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Leo Biagetti and Eddie Griffiths threatened to make a two-man race out of the Ohio Golf Championship heading into today's final 36-hole grind.

Over the first two rounds of the 72-hole affair, Biagetti and Griffiths were the only ones able to break par on the tough Firestone

Country Club representative, ended with a 151 composite score in the Ohio Golf Open at Akron yesterday, good enough to go into today's final 36-hole test in the amateur division.

Robert Biscioti, PCC pro, posted a 161 on 81-80 showings playing in the amateur bracket. 164 was the cutoff point for a finals berth.

Country Club championship course—the same course that was used for last year's PGA and for the American Golf Classic last August.

Biagetti, Ashland Country Club professional, fired a 2-under-par 68 in a blazing finish Tuesday, knocking the ball in the 18th hole from a distance of 160 yards. Combined with his 71 in Monday's opening round that gave Biagetti a 139 total for 36 holes, one-under-par and one stroke ahead of Griffiths.

Griffiths, 34-year-old Youngstown pro who won the Ohio Open in 1957, shot a 3-under-par 67 in the first round, but went 3-over-par for 73 on the second round.

Aside from Biagetti, none beat or matched par Tuesday. There were no 71s and only three 72s as the field was trimmed to 64 for today's finale.

Of the field of 100 pros and 50 amateurs who started Monday, 39 pros and 25 amateurs made it into the finals.

Quotas for the finals had been set arbitrarily at 35 professionals and 25 amateurs, but since five pros were tied at 155, the cutoff point, all five went into the final 36 holes.

A score of 164 was good enough to qualify an amateur for the finals.

Braves Poise Warclubs for Sheridan Tilt

Logan Elm's Braves, on the warpath after three straight victories over highly-rated opponents, have their tomahawks poised and ready for an invasion of the Fairgrounds gridiron Saturday night.

The nocturnal encounter pits the host Tribe, carrying a 3-2 slate, against a win-hungry bunch of footballers from Sheridan High School in Perry County.

While Logan Elm clipped Paint Valley by a convincing 22-8 margin in the Braves last outing, Sheridan was KO'd 56-0 by a power-wielding Lancaster Fenwick Club. LE head mentor Keith Merrin—who scouted the Fenwick tilt—commented Saturday's visitors concentrate mostly on an inside running offense.

He indicated the Perry Countians, in contrast to most of the Braves opponents this season, shy away from a passing attack, preferring to battle it out on the ground. The Sheridan line boasts a trio of 200-plus pound giants, but their backfield is the smallest Logan Elm has faced all year.

"WE'LL BE concentrating predominantly on a straight running game on offense," Merrin said. The Braves have utilized a grid-embed philosophy in all three wins so far this year.

Additional good news came to the Braves encampment yesterday when it was learned Gary Hardman, sophomore defensive halfback, is expected to be ready for duty Saturday after injuries had forced him out of the lineup two weeks ago. Left tackle Gene Jordan and left guard Jim Harrel are still question marks on the active playing roster. Both have slight injuries.

Roger Clark, Logan Elm's offensive speedster, will probably be slowed a bit Saturday by a bad hip bruise, but is expected to play most of the game. Merrin noted his squad's spirit is "excellent" with all his boys anxious to prolong the Braves victory streak.

J. Franklin (Home Run) Baker holds the highest total in World Series batting. In six classics he hit a collective .363.

ROBERT WOOD

Wood To Head Youth Baseball 1962 Program

Robert Wood will head operations of the Circleville Youth Baseball Program, Inc. during the 1962 season.

Wood, Pickaway County Treasurer, was elected for a one-year term last night during the first regular meeting of the Program's 1962 board of directors.

Chosen with Wood during the session in the Fairgrounds Coliseum were Roy Farmer, vice president for Babe Ruth League operations, Lee Smith, secretary and Richard Plum, treasurer. All are members of the board.

Other directors serving for 1962 are Emmitt Wood, Snap Ankrom, Bill Ankrom, Ralph Starkey, Ward Skinner, Joe Gibbs, Mike Harrison, Lew Shauk, Forrest Brown, Ralph Boyer, George Helwagen, Richard Tootle, Wes Edstrom Jr., Richard Bowers and William Cook.

THE newly-organized board voted to express its appreciation to retiring board members for "their outstanding work for the Program and boys of Circleville."

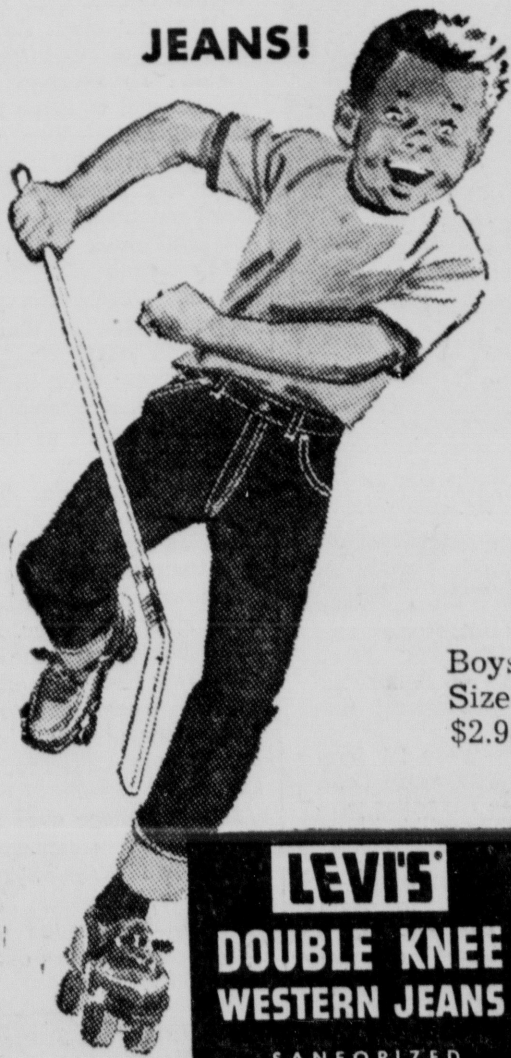

James I. Smith III, previous secretary-treasurer of the Program, was installed as an honorary member of the board. Smith, well-known in community projects here, is moving to Columbus soon.

Next meeting for the board will be 7:30 p. m. Nov. 1 in the Coliseum.

Ryder Cuppers Ready for Test

Yanks Find British Course To Be Tough

LYTHAM ST. ANNE'S, England (AP) — America's Ryder Cup golfers agreed today that, come wind or rain or both, this royal links is a true and tough test for the biennial match against Britain Friday and Saturday.

The Yanks reached this unanimous opinion after playing their first practice rounds over the Lytham St. Anne's course in a drizzling rain, but without the wind that can turn the layout into 6635 yards of treachery.

"It's a real tight course," said Gene Littler, U.S. Open champion, after playing his first 18 holes over British soil.

"You have to hit the ball straight. If you don't—well, brother you're in trouble."

The Ryder Cup battle—14th in the series and won 10 times by the United States—is certain to draw huge crowds to this vacation coastline in England's northwest.

Upwards of 10,000 people are expected to swarm over the sea-side links on each day of the match—eight foursomes on Friday and 16 singles on Saturday, all over 18 holes, morning and afternoon, under the new revised Ryder Cup system.

"The course is in terrific condition," said Mike Souchak, of Grossinger, N.Y. "It only penalizes you when you get where you're not supposed to be."

Jay Herbert, the U.S. team's 38-year-old bachelor, said:

"This course is going to need a lot of local knowledge. It's got plenty of hidden traps but I guess we'll have the feel of it before the match starts."

American captain Jerry Barber ended his first practice round with raindrops dripping from his glasses.

"Sometimes I think the English have an automatic sprinkling system which they turn on whenever foreigners come here to play," Barber said.

2 Yankees Make Dates with Surgeon

NEW YORK (AP) — For most of the New York Yankees, the main business at hand today was to sit back and wait for their fat World Series checks.

Not so for Bob Turley and Luis Arroyo. Both pitchers have operations scheduled. Turley's is important. It could send him back on the firing line as one of the top Yank hurlers. Arroyo's is a cyst on his wrist.

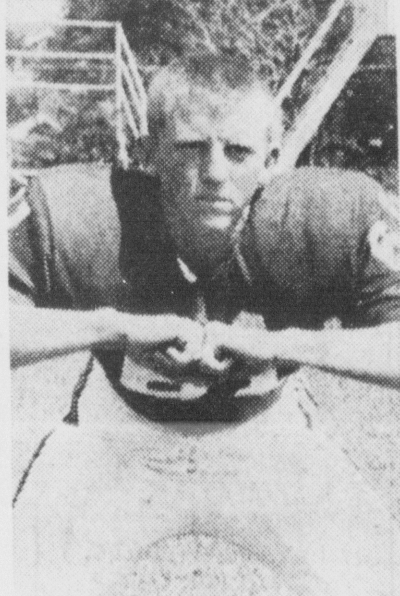

"I'm going into the hospital to have some bone chips removed from my right elbow this week," said Turley the hero of the 1958 World Series.

Golfer Don Whitt registered back-to-back eagles in the 1956 Phoenix Open and in the 1958 Montebello Open. He won the latter.

Midwest Football Seer Says Ohio State To Clobber Illini

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer
CINCINNATI (AP)—The mid-west football seer's batting average looked much better than the Cincinnati Reds' lost weekend with a clean prognosticating sweep for a season mark of 13-2-1 (.867).

Here's another bounce of the crystal ball:

Michigan 20, Michigan State 18—A shaky bet on Michigan's more seasoned quarterbacking and rugged linemen. The game is at Ann Arbor. Are the Wildcats for real? The will be jumping with Wolverine whooping. The contest could be the key to the Big Ten title, especially since Michigan State's Spartans do not meet Iowa or Ohio State.

Northwestern 19, Minnesota 12—A shaky bet on Michigan's more seasoned quarterbacking and rugged linemen. The game is at Ann Arbor. Are the Wildcats for real? The will be jumping with Wolverine whooping. The contest could be the key to the Big Ten title, especially since Michigan State's Spartans do not meet Iowa or Ohio State.

Iowa 21, Indiana 7 — Iowa's Hawkeyes may not get the breathers they expected against an Indiana club which refused to be pushed around by Wisconsin.

Ohio State 24, Illinois 7 — It looks like a long, long season for Pete Elliott's green Illini. The Bucks can make it, trying fancy stuff or just typical Buckeye cloud-of-dusting.

Purdue 18, Miami of Ohio 6—The Miami Redskins have pulled the rug from under Big Ten teams before.

In 31 PGA golf tournaments in 1960, Doug Sanders of Ojai, Calif., earned $30,371. In 1962, Sanders passed the $53,000 the first nine months on tour.

Boosters Set Plans for Show Projects

Plans for two Pumpkin Show projects were prominent items for discussion last night when the Circleville Booster Club officers and directors met at CHS.

The Boosters will conduct a pumpkinjack and pumpkinpop stand in addition to operating a pony ride concession. Committees were named.

Club officials selected a pumpkinjack recipe after sampling several forms of the drink, prepared by Ralph Starkey and Robert Huff.

The pumpkinjack booth will be located just east of the annual Ferris wheel site on E. Main St. The pony ride will be set up on S. Court St. across from the post-office.

MEMBERS of the Women's Booster Club Auxiliary have agreed to help operate the pumpkinjack stand. Mrs. Geneva Ullman has lined up work schedules for the ladies.

Other business included the selection of Dec. 9 at the date for the annual football banquet. The speaker, time and place will be determined soon.

A motion to purchase new basketball jackets for the CHS varsity was passed following a lengthy discussion. A move to buy a whirlpool bath for all school athletic teams was tabled until the next meeting.

A report on the fish fry here Sept. 9 disclosed a net profit of more than $300.

Late Monday
High individual one game—Ken Morris, 203; high individual series—Jerry Bender, 544; runnerup, Ken Morris with 543.

Top team one and three matches—Hoover Fabric Shop, 988 and 2,760. All scores are computed without handicaps at Circle D Lanes.

World Series Fails To Boom Cincy Business

CINCINNATI (AP) — The 1961 World Series did not prove to be the boon to Cincinnati businessmen that some had expected.

"We did a very nice business," Joseph Lask, president of the Cincinnati Culinary Council, said when it was all over. "But it was about the same as the business we usually do during a good double-header weekend. And we had expected something a lot better than that."

Businessmen estimated about $1.5 million was spent by out-of-town visitors during the three games—considerably less than many had expected.

When Airmans Guide, a 4-year-old bay filly, won The Beldame at Belmont Park, it was her sixth victory in eight races this year. The race marked her 12th straight time in the money in the last two years.

$4 Million Player Purchase Analyzed

CINCINNATI Ohio (AP) — At a cost of nearly two million dollars each, Houston and New York have assembled teams today that probably will battle it out for ninth place in 1962 in the now expanded 10-team National League.

The only hope for the Colts and Mets to finish among the first eight is to improve the club through trades, purchases or the sudden emergence of thus far unheralded bonus youngsters.

Despite the seemingly meager pickings in Tuesday's regular and special drafts of players from the eight established National League clubs, both President George Weiss of the Mets and General Manager Paul Richards of the Colts appeared satisfied, at least outwardly.

"We have a strong nucleus for a fine club in a short time," said Richards. "From now on, we ask no favors from anyone."

If the Colts and Mets were to open the 1962 National League season tomorrow, here is how the starting teams probably would shape up:

49ers' 'Shotgun' Sets League Pace

NEW YORK (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers have moved out front as the National Football League's leading team on offense.

The 49ers and their explosive "shotgun" attack have mustered a total of 1,470 yards through the defenses of Washington, Green Bay, Detroit and Los Angeles, the NFL's weekly statistical charts showed today. San Francisco has won three games and lost one.

The Chicago Bears, despite their 2-2 record, have made the second best showing on offense. The Bears have picked up 1,307 yards. Dallas is third with 1,289.

The 49ers lead the league in total rushing yardage with 686, the best pass completion average with 58.8, the most touchdowns with 18, the most touchdowns on running plays with 13 and the most points with 129.

The New York Yankees hit 10 home runs in the 1960 World Series.

Ground-Gaining Leaders To Meet

CLEVELAND (AP) — Football fans at the Cleveland Browns-Green Bay Packer game here Sunday will see the leading and runner-up ground gainers in the National Football League as well as the league's top passer and scorer.

Jim Taylor of the Packers and Jim Brown of Cleveland are 1-2 in rushing with 360 and 315 yards, respectively, and the Browns' Milt Plum leads the league in passing, based on a number of statistics. He has a 55.2 completion percentage.

But the Packers' Paul Hornung has the biggest edge on the near-est rival in the department he lead—scoring. The golden boy from Notre Dame, whose 176 points last year are an NFL record, has scored 64 points—a 16-point bulge over Baltimore's Lenny Moore.

The honor of playing most times on a winning World Series team belongs to Joe DiMaggio. He was on nine winners as a Yankee.

Progress of Dr. Wilmer's first group, some 10 enlisted men and officers, was the plot of the show. There was particular concentration on the most violent patients, a Marine sergeant who arrived in a straightjacket and was both homicidal and suicidal. Lee arvin played the disturbed man, and very authoritatively.

There was no banal happy ending or any quick cure, but the program held a hopeful note for the futures of many mental patients.

It was a gripping, well-knit drama, both thoughtful and constructive. If it is typical of the weekly series, we really have something to cheer about. Fred Astaire made his debut as host

COLTS' BIG HOPE - - - By Alan Maver

JOHNNY UNITAS, BALTIMORE QUARTERBACK, WHOSE GOOD RIGHT ARM WILL BE THE CHIEF WEAPON AS THE COLTS TRY TO REGAIN THE TOP.

After two straight seasons as pro champs, the Colts slipped down to 4th in their division in 1960 but Johnny was top tosser in completions, yardage gained and touchdowns, though intercepted more than usual.

Views on Television - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A dramatic anthology series with something of the quality of "Playhouse 90" made its debut on ABC Tuesday night.

The comparison between the two is inevitable because the first program of the weekly series and one of the last "Playhouse 90" dramas were pegged to the same theme: group psychiatric treatment.

The "Premiere" theater's hour-long play, "People Need People," was based on cases actually handled by Dr. Harry Wilmer, a physician who experimented with group handling of seriously disturbed male patients in a Navy hospital. "Playhouse 90's" treatment, "Journey to the Day," took place in a state institution and included women in the group.

Ground-Gaining Leaders To Meet

CLEVELAND (AP) — Football fans at the Cleveland Browns-Green Bay Packer game here Sunday will see the leading and runner-up ground gainers in the National Football League as well as the loop's top passer and scorer.

Jim Taylor of the Packers and Jim Brown of Cleveland are 1-2 in rushing with 360 and 315 yards, respectively, and the Browns' Milt Plum leads the league in passing, based on a number of statistics. He has a 55.2 completion percentage.

But the Packers' Paul Hornung has the biggest edge on the nearest rival in the department he lead — scoring. The golden boy from Notre Dame, whose 176 points last year are an NFL record, has scored 64 points—a 16-point bulge over Baltimore's Lenny Moore.

The honor of playing most times on a winning World Series team belongs to Joe DiMaggio. He was on nine winners as a Yankee.

2 New NL Teams Select Players

CINCINNATI (AP) — The New York Mets selected pitcher Bob Miller of the St. Louis Cardinals and Jay Hook of the Cincinnati Reds as their first two premium players for $125,000 each in the National League player stocking of the Mets and the Houston Colts Tuesday.

The Colts chose infielder Joe Amalfitano of San Francisco and relief pitcher Dick Farrell of Los Angeles as their top two premium players.

New York also selected Don Zimmer, Chicago Cub infielder, and Lee Walls, infielder-outfielder of the Philadelphia Phils, while the Houston club closed out its premium player draft with the selection of catcher Hal Smith of the Pittsburgh Pirates and outfielder Al Spangler of Milwaukee.

Houston took 23 players and it cost them $1.85 million while the Mets took 22 players for $1.8 million.

Earlier the Colts had picked Eddie Bressoud, San Francisco shortstop, and the Mets chose catcher Hobie Landrith, also of the Phils, in their first selection from the list of $75,000 players.

The Colts then picked Bob Aspromonte, Los Angeles shortstop, and the Mets chose second baseman Elio Chacon of Cincinnati.

President Warren Giles tossed a coin for the first selection and the Houston manager Harry Craft, won.

Manager Paul Richards of Houston made the first selection of Bressoud, Bressoud, 29, played shortstop four years for the Giants and last season batted .227 in 58 games.

President George Weiss of the Mets took Landrith as his first selection. The 31-year-old catcher, a left-handed hitter, batted .235 for the Giants in 42 games this year. He has been around the National League for 10 years, off and on.

Aspromonte, 23, an infielder, played third base in most of his games with the Dodgers last season, but he also can play shortstop and second base. Last season he hit .235 in 45 games. He was a highly regarded rookie in the Dodgers organization.

Chacon, 24, played second base during most of the World Series for Cincinnati. He batted .265 last season.

Opening phase of the draft required each new club to draw a total of 16 players—two from each of the original eight clubs — at $75,000 each plus a choice of eight more—one from each existing club—at $50,000 each.

Other selections made in $75,000 bracket included:

Third round—Houston, infielder Bob Lillis, St. Louis Cardinals; New York, pitcher Roger Craig, Los Angeles Dodgers.

Fourth round—Houston, pitcher Dick Drott, Chicago Cubs; New York, outfielder Gus Bell, Cincinnati.

Fifth round—Houston, outfielder Al Heist, Cubs; New York, outfielder Joe Christopher, Pittsburgh Pirates.

Sixth round—Houston, outfielder Roman Mejias, Pirates; New York, infielder Felix Mantilla, Milwaukee Braves.

Seventh round—Houston, second baseman George Williams, Philadelphia Phils; New York, first baseman Gil Hodges, Dodgers.

Eighth round—Houston, pitcher Jesse Hickman, Phils; New York, pitcher Craig Anderson, Cardinals.

Ninth round—Houston, catcher Merritt Ranew, Braves; New York, pitcher Ray Davault, Giants.

Tenth round—Houston, outfielder Don Taussig, Cardinals; New York, outfielder John Demerit, Braves.

Eleventh round—Houston, pitcher Bobby Shantz, Pirates; New York, pitcher Al Jackson, Pirates.

Twelfth round—Houston, first baseman Norm Larker, Dodgers; New York, infielder-outfielder Sammy Drake, Cubs.

Thirteenth round—Houston pitcher Sam Jones, Giants; New York, catcher Chris Canizzaro, Cardinals.

Fourteenth round—Houston, pitcher Paul Roof, Braves; New York, first baseman El Bouche, Cubs.

Fifteenth round—Houston, pitcher Ken Johnson, Cincinnati; New York, catcher Clarence Coleman, Phils.

Sixteenth round—Houston, first baseman Dick Gernert, Cincinnati; New York, outfielder Bobby Gene Smith, Phils.

In the drafting of the $50,000 players, Houston elected to take only three: pitchers Jim Umbricht, Pirates, and Jim Golden of the Dodgers, and Ed Olivares, an infielder-outfielder with St. Louis.

The Mets took only pitcher Sherman Jones of Cincinnati and outfielder Jim Hickman of the Cardinals.

Wade E. Jeffers, county supervisor, reports the following breakdown for use of loan money: $30,082 for improved livestock; $13,610 for needed machinery; $3,810 for recommended rates of fertilizer; $875 for improved seeds; $3,917 for gas and oil; $7,050 for feed; $11,720 to set up other debts on a better repayment schedule; $550 for insurance on livestock and machinery; $560 for family living expenses; $400 for livestock expenses such as production testing programs and vaccinations; $3,205 for repairs and $35,600 for building improvements.

The Farmers Home Administration is an agency of the United States Department of Agriculture and makes loans to eligible farmers who cannot get adequate financing elsewhere at reasonable rates and terms. Chattel loans can be made with the repayment period covering 7 years at 5 per cent interest.

Farm building and dwelling loans can be made up to specified appraisal and repaid up to 33 years at 4 per cent interest. Loans to purchase farms are also available at 5 per cent interest and up to 40 years to repay.

JEFFERS said the FHS program is being improved to make larger loans where necessary and to finance dwelling improvements in small rural communities. The change goes into effect Oct. 15, 1961, and more information will be forthcoming.

Those desiring further information are invited to contact Jeffers at the County Agent's office, 159½ E. Main St., Circleville, every Tuesday morning from 10 a.m. to noon.

Diabetes Drive Will Open Soon

Dr. V. D. Kerns, 234 N. Scioto St., has been named to head the 1961 Diabetes Detection Drive which begins in Pickaway County with Diabetes Week, November 12-18.

Dr. Kerns was named to head the drive here by Dr. Robert G. Smith, president of the Pickaway County Medical Society which sponsors the campaign.

Dr. Kerns is a member of the American Diabetes Association, the American Academy of General Practice of Medicine and the Ohio State Medical Association.

Immediate objective of the drive is to find the one person in 140 who is an unknown diabetic and alert him to the need for prompt medical care. Dr. Kerns asserted, "This is an important health project," he said, "and the place to start is right here in Circleville."

Dr. Kerns disclosed that diabetes ranks seventh among the illnesses in the United States causing death. The dual purpose of the Detection Drive is to educate the public and uncover hidden cases of diabetes, he said.

"A controlled diabetic, one who is under medical care, can almost always continue to lead a normal life," Dr. Kerns explained, adding that "complications arise usually when the condition is neglected. Our task is to find these unknown cases. The test is simple, safe and painless."

Facilities at Berger Hospital's laboratory and offices of family physicians throughout the county will be established during Diabetes Week so that every citizen can take the test conveniently.

Physical symptoms which should alert people to diabetes were outlined by Dr. Kerns. These include excessive thirst, excessive urination, loss of weight despite unusual hunger, intense itching, slow healing of cuts and bruises, changes in vision, easy tiring, and pain in the extremities. However, anyone can develop diabetes without these symptoms.

Prize Novelist Takes Bride At Age of 83

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—"I think I'm a very lucky old man," says Pulitzer Prize-winning novelist Upton Sinclair, 83.

Sinclair, author of more than 70 books, and Mary Elizabeth Willis, 79, a widow, took out a marriage license Tuesday. His first wife, Mary Craig Kimbrough Sinclair, died last April 26 at 78.

Sinclair said he and Mrs. Willis drove to San Bernardino for the license in an effort to avoid publicity.

"That shows you what duifers we are," he laughed. "We were very naive. We thought the ladies (in the clerk's office) up there wouldn't be learned. They didn't show any sign of recognizing me."

Deputy County Clerk Berniece Waddell said Sinclair, wearing a short-sleeved sport shirt and appearing tanned and healthy "looked more nearly 70."

The author, who won the Pulitzer Prize in 1943 for his novel "Dragon's Teeth," said he and Mrs. Willis will be married at 11 a.m. Saturday in St. Ambrose Episcopal church in Claremont, none of the prospective bride. Sinclair gave an address in Monrovia, both are small cities east of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Willis' permanent home is in Milwaukee, Wis. She is a sister of Dr. Frederick Hard, president of Scripps College in Claremont.

Tot in New York Awakens Ohioans

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP)—Frank Ryan of suburban Whitehall got to work by virtue of a New York three-year-old's ingenuity.

Oversleeping and late for his job as assistant director of public information for the Ohio Department of Highways, Ryan picked up his ringing telephone at 8:15 a.m.

"Hello, hello, hello," was all he heard from the timid voice of Jodie Silverman, 3, of Huntington, N.Y. Then, "mommy, mommy, I called somebody all by myself." The flabbergasted mother got on the line and explained. Jodie was just playing with the dial and happened to pick out Ryan's direct long-distance dialing combination.

Readings from a supersensitive thermometer placed at the focus of a visual telescope indicate a temperature of about minus 40 degrees Fahrenheit above the clouds on Venus. Radio observation shows a temperature of 580 Fahrenheit at the planet's surface.
